Give Support To Truman Strategy

Defense Department Behind President's Policy for Korea

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—It looks like a fight to the finish between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the Truman administration over the best strategy for victory in the Far East.

A surprise defense department statement last night putting President Truman's civilian and military advisers squarely behind his dismissal of the general was widely taken here today as a display of administration solidarity in preparation for a showdown policy struggle. The White House authorized the statement.

On the other side of the argument, persons in position to know MacArthur's personal feelings described him as deeply convinced of the rightness of the ideas he expressed in his address to Congress yesterday and determined to see them through in the belief that majority opinion in Congress and throughout the country would support him.

Broaden Field

Moreover, his attack in a talk to the Daughters of the American Revolution late yesterday on "regimentation" in the United States indicated a willingness on his part to broaden the field of conflict to domestic as well as foreign policy issues.

Administration strategy in meeting MacArthur's headon challenge—as it is now being developed under White House leadership—is understood to be designed to accomplish two purposes:

1. To convince a majority of Congress and public opinion that MacArthur's key proposals to seek an early victory in the Korean war by taking new military measures against Red China actually would create a serious danger of setting off World War III.

2 To demonstrate that in developing his own policy of fighting only a limited war in Korea, and in sticking to that policy, the President has acted on the advice of directly responsible military counselors — the Joint Chiefs of Staffs.

Carry Weight

On both these points the opinions of military men are expected to carry great weight The President therefore is due to rely heavily on the testimony before Congressional committees of Secretary of Defense Marshall and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Both like MacArthur, are five-star generals.

Want Joint Chiefs' Stand Aired

Seek Showdown On Military Policy

WASHINGTON, April 20 — (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's claim that the Joint Chiefs of Staff once shared his views on Korean war strategy fired demands in Congress today for a policy showdown with the military high command.

The 71-year-old general of the Army had gone on to New York, there to receive the nation's biggest welcome home, but he left behind him a capital torn with the bitterest controversy of a decade.

From Democrat as well as Republican lawmakers came demands that the Joint Chiefs of Staff answer quickly whether they agree — from a military standpoint — with a four-point win-the-war program the deposed Pacific commander laid before a cheering Congress yesterday.

The Truman administration replied immediately to MacArthur's statement that he believed his strategy views had been shared in the past by most military men, "including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Issue Clouded

The reply did not directly refute that declaration, Clayton Fritchey, chief public relations man of the Defense Department, said he had been authorized by the White House to say President Truman's action in firing MacArthur "was based upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers including the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

The statement also referred to the reasons for MacArthur's ouster—Mr. Truman's expressed belief that the five-star general was unable to give his "wholehearted support" to administration of Far Eastern policy.

MacArthur's program for prosecution of the Korean war was in effect a protest against the administration's efforts to limit it strictly to the embattled Korean peninsula.

"Why, my soldiers asked of me, surrender military advantages to an enemy in the field?" He said, "I could not answer."

The MacArthur program involved (1) intensification of the economic blockade against the Chinese Reds, (2) naval blockade of the China coast, (3)) authority for Allied airpower to operate over Manchuria, and (4) logistical (supply) support of the Chinese Nationalists for "effective operation against the Chinese mainland."

Lawmakers rose and cheered as MacArthur said it was his understanding that, from a military standpoint, these views had been shared in the past by the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Bradley Remarks

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the top military policy group, had no direct comment, but he told reporters after a speech at Chapel Hill, N. C., that as advisers to Mr. Truman the Joint Chiefs "render our advice to him on a military point of view"

"If we are going to be of use to the President, we feel our advice should be confidential," Bradley added. "We would be destroying our usefulness if it was public."

Bradley also said—and declined to amplify—that "the question of General MacArthur's relief is primarily a political one." He added, "I am a military man."

Of MacArthur's statement he thought the Joint Chiefs had seen eye to eye with him, Senator Kerr (D-Okla) said, "I do not believe that statement." Appearing last night on a radio forum ("Reporter's Roundup," MBS), Kerr said the general should explain why, if he believes that, the Joint Chiefs recommended his removal.

Senators Long (D-La) and Hunt (D-Wyo) said the Joint Chiefs' position must be cleared up immediately. Chairman Russell (D-

Allies Slowed By Rearguard Counterattacks

Yanks Make Use Of FlamethrowersTo Open Way for Tanks

TOKYO, April 20—(AP)—Stubborn rearguard Communists today hurled two counterattacks against Allied units closing on Chorwon, presumed Red base.

An unestimated number of Reds attacked American troops eight miles southeast of Chorwon. The fight raged into late afternoon.

About 200 Reds hit Allied lines in the same area Friday morning but were dispersed by artillery within 15 minutes.

Allied patrols were reported fighting strong Red units Friday night at several other points north of the front.

Doughboys wielding flamethrowers against Red outposts burned a path for tanks which moved up within gun range of Chorwon

4-Hour Fight

A United Nations tank-infantry column captured a hill one mile north of Hwachon reservoir's east tip after a four-hour fire fight with 300 Reds.

The Allied column hit the stubborn pocket of Red Koreans Friday morning. Heavy air and artillery attacks softened the Communists just before the column rushed the hill.

Patrols easily dispersed a Red force northeast of Yanggu.

Artillery killed an estimated 50 Communists grouped near the reservoir's north bank.

U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and light bombers, flying through an overcast, hurled 552 sorties at Chinese and North Korean frontline positions and other targets.

They attacked one concentration of 100 enemy vehicles and hit 20 towns.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average 2-5 degrees below normal. Normal maximum 59. Normal minimum 39 Cool Saturday thru Wednesday. Precipitation will average one half to one inch. Rain every other day beginning late Saturday.

Appointment of the group to advise Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson on top secret research in all the sciences, including atomic, was disclosed in a White House announcement.

The announcement said Mr. Truman had invited Dr. Oliver E. Buckley, former president and now chairman of the board of the Bell Telephone laboratories, to serve as chairman of the group.

He is a member of the general advisory committee of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Draft Quota For May Set at 22

Twenty-two Marion County men will be inducted into the Army via the draft May 17, Marion County Draft Board No. 81 announced today.

Men called for induction will be those born before March 1, 1931.

The new draft call was received today after the board had previously received notice there would be no local draft call for May.

2 Officers Of Child Welfare Board Resign

Stafford, President, And Mrs. McClure, Secretary, Quit

John Stafford, president of the Marion County Child Welfare Board, and Mrs. Troy McClure of near Prospect, secretary, have submitted their resignations from the board to the Marion County Commissioners.

Mr. Stafford of 741 Mt Vernon avenue and Mrs. McClure have been members of the governing body of the Marion County Children's Home for the last 12 years.

A spokesman for the county commissioners said no action would be taken on the two vacancies until a regular meeting of the commissioners next week.

Nether Mr. Stafford nor Mrs. McClure commented on their resignations this morning. The resignations follow recent unrest at the Home. Mr. and Mrs. Mac D. Metz, superintendent and matron, respectively of the Home, were ousted from their posts by the welfare board at a meeting held April 5. The ouster movement was carried by a 3-2 vote by the five-member board. Mr. Stafford and Mrs. McClure were the two board members voting against the ouster.

Other members of the board are Dr. Frederick W. Rea, Edwin E Banning and Walter E. Moore.

ADMIT STEALING STONE

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 20—(AP)—Three Glasgow University students revealed last night that they and a woman school teacher snatched the coronation stone from Westminster Abbey Christmas Day. The students came forward a few hours after the British government announced there would be no prosecutions in the now-celebrated case.

Given Wild Ovation By Largest Crowd In Gotham History

NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—A wild "welcome home" ovation was given Gen. Douglas MacArthur today as he toured New York's gaily decorated streets in a hero's tickertape parade.

Cheering throngs greeted him from the moment he drove out of his hotel driveway in a big open automobile at 11:06 a.m. (E.S.T.).

Police estimated that 7,500,000 persons would see him before the three-hour procession ended — the largest crowd ever in the history of New York official receptions.

The weather was perfect—sunny and cool.

The general, smiling and waving, wore his familiar crushed officers cap with its "scrambled eggs" visor and a long army overcoat. Seated beside him was Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri in a blue topcoat and a gray homburg hat.

Also in the car were Grover A Whalen, the city's "official greeter", and Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, the general's aide.

Throng Bursts Into Cheers

A throng gathered outside the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel burst into cheering when the general's automobile appeared from the hotel's underground garage.

Shouts of "Hi, General," could be heard.

The wives of the general and the mayor rode in a second car. The general's 13-year-old son, Arthur, rode with his mother.

Headed by 86 motorcycle police, the 50-car motorcade turned north on Park Avenue for Central Park where thousands of school children were waiting to shriek a welcome.

Torn paper showered from buildings along the normally-staid upper East Side district between the hotel and the park.

"Come on, MacArthur, save America," shouted one spectator whose strong voice echoed above the roars of the crowd.

Sidewalks along Park Avenue were packed seven and eight deep.

The general, seated in the right rear seat, waved a gloved hand at the noisy acclaim.

Police had difficulty holding the crowds back at some points.

"Hey General, hey General," shouted excited youngsters.

Up at 7:30 a. m.

MacArthur arose at 7:30 a.m. (E.S.T.), and 40 minutes later, breakfast was sent to his 10-room suite on the 37th floor of the Waldorf Towers.

An army of police and detectives barred all persons from that floor except the general's military aides and those with official passes.

Switchboard operators at the hotel said that in eight hours since midnight they took 1,200 telephone calls from persons wanting to talk to MacArthur.

Most of the callers wanted to congratulate him on his speech in Congress yesterday, and wish him well, the operators said. The calls came from all sections of the country.

The operators said they declined to put the calls through to the general's suite, but said that as far as possible they tried to make a note of the messages to pass on to him.

Has Usual Breakfast

MacArthur had orange juice, a grapefruit, three soft-boiled eggs and hot tea for breakfast, his usual fare.

At 9 a.m., the morning newspapers were sent to his suite.

Outside, the streets already were beginning to swell with spectators. Early arrivals took up vantage points in Times Square, and along Fifth Avenue and lower Broadway.

A half dozen persons in Times Square sought to distribute "peace" pamphlets, but police hustled them out of the area. The pamphlets urged President Truman to "bring our boys home" from Korea.

Countless store windows displayed large pictures of MacArthur.

From the Empire State Building, the world's tallest structure, an enormous flag, 25 by 15 feet in size, rippled over Fifth Avenue. It was flanked by two smaller flags.

Mobile television units took up places along the route.

Schools Let Out

School children converged on Central Park, through which MacArthur will ride on one lap of the parade. Led by their teachers, the yelling youngsters poured out of subway entrances by the thousands.

They have been given a holiday for the event.

Street vendors wandered among the crowds peddling "MacArthur buttons" at a dime apiece. The buttons pictured MacArthur against a background of red-white-and-blue.

About 500 policemen patroled the big park, whose streets were barred to vehicle traffic.

A contingent of 300 patrolmen, special fire-fighting equipment, a first-aid unit and three ambulances were assigned to the City Hall plaza, parade termination point.

Tankers Crash, 1 Sinks, Fear All Hands Lost

NEW ORLEANS, April 20—(AP)—Two tankers collided in the Gulf of Mexico about 200 miles south of Morgan City, La., early today and one was believed "lost with all hands."

The other was reported afire fore and aft with her first mate dead and a number of crewmen badly burned.

The lost vessel was tentatively identified by the Coast Guard as the 'Gator, a type T-2 tanker that normally carries a crew of 35 men. It was not immediately known to whom she belonged.

The burning vessel was the Esso Suez, one of the new super-tankers of the Esso Standard Oil Co.

Thomas B. Coon New Chief of Police

Thomas B. Coon will be Marion's new chief of police. He scored the highest grade of the three police captains taking the examination for police chief Wednesday night. Robert Brown, chairman of the City Civil Service Commission announced today. Acting Chief Clyde Hardin placed second and Captain Justin Cornely third. All three passed the exam.

Grading of the examinations was completed last night. Mr. Brown said the commission, of which he is chairman, will certify Capt. Coon's appointment to the mayor today.

Mayor Robinson said the safety-service director would appoint Coon as chief today immediately upon receipt of the commission's certification.

Will Take Over Tomorrow

The new chief will actually take over the running of the police department starting tomorrow. Capt. Hardin has been acting chief since the resignation of former chief William E. Marks Feb. 1.

He will be on probation as chief for 90 days, starting today. During that time if he was to be found unsatisfactory for some just cause he could be removed by the mayor. He would then have 30 days in which to appeal his removal.

All this is pretty much academic, Civil Service Chairman Brown said, as the city has never had a police chief who failed to make his probation period. In fact no officer of the department above the grade of patrolman has ever failed probation, he added.

Captain Coon said today he had no statement to make about plans or future operations of the department.

"This has been a pretty sudden turn of events and I want to get settled in the job and have my feet squarely on the ground before I have anything to say," he said.

THOMAS B. COON

The new chief first joined the department as a patrolman Sept. 10, 1941. He came to the police department after working for seven years at the Marion Power Shovel as a storekeeper, a job he took following his graduation from Harding High School in 1933.

He served as a patrolman until June 25, 1949 when he was appointed captain, effective July 1, 1949, by the late E. O. Uncapher, safety-service director under former Mayor Harry L. Dowler. He had placed first in the captain's examination of June 1949 and was named to fill the vacancy on the department which followed the retirement of Capt. Ora De Wees.

Sixth Chief

Thomas B. Coon will be Marion's sixth chief of police. Levi Cornwell, the first, was appointed in 1906 when Marion became a city. He succeeded James M. Davidson who was the last marshal to serve Marion before it became a city.

Chief Cornwell served eight years and was succeeded by Chief John W. Kleinfelter in 1914. Other chiefs were John M. "Jack" McDonough, 1916-1918, James W. Thompson, 1918-1931, William E. Marks, 1931-1951.

The department has also had two acting chiefs at various times. The first of these was Captain E. C. Mackan and the second was Captain Clyde Hardin whose second such tour of duty ends with the appointment of the new chief.

Chief Coon is 36 years old, a native Marionite, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Coon of 127 Pennsylvania avenue. He is married and has a daughter, Sondra, age 12, who is a student at Oakland School. He lives at 901 Congress street.

Ga) indicated it would be investigated when a delayed inquiry begins into Far Eastern military and foreign policies.

But Long said the statement must not be left to lie unanswered until MacArthur comes back to Washington, probably late in the month, for an appearance before the group.

Challenges Contention

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the House military appropriations subcommittee, challenged MacArthur's contention that the Joint Chiefs agree with the five-star general's views.

"He is in error," Mahon said. "The Joint Chiefs repeatedly have said before my committee that they do not agree that we should bomb Manchurian air bases and support Chiang Kai-shek in an invasion of China."

"They have admitted, however, that they'll have to consider such action if Red China air force comes in strength into the fight."

Senators Maybank (D-SC) and Duff (R-Pa) called on the chiefs of staff to speak up.

In three public appearances here yesterday the ousted Pacific commander blasted not only at what he called "blind" efforts to appease Red China and Russia but at "the internal subversion and corruption and detailed regimentation" he said are threatening American life.

It was an all-out attack on the Truman administration's home and foreign policies by the five-star general who said he was ready to "close my career and just fade away—an old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty."

Outdid Superlatives

MacArthur's Washington homecoming—he served as Army chief of staff before going to the Far East—outdid its descriptive superlatives.

Lawmakers said his dramatic appearance at the joint meeting of Congress surpassed anything that has happened there since the early days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's tenure as President.

His speech, delivered in a resonant voice, was likened by Rep. Rivers (D-SC) to Winston Churchill's best. Many listeners agreed the general was "better than Roosevelt" at drawing crowd response.

Rep. Gore (D-Tenn) called it "one of the great dramatic orations of our time." Millions saw and heard him on television and radio.

MacArthur left no doubt he will remain in the center of a last-ditch fight to reverse the policies of President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson for a limited war in Korea and to take the wraps off United Nations forces fighting there.

Two Testify To Salary Kickbacks

Jury Hears Former Employes at Trial Of Ohio Legislator

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—Two former employes of Republican Rep. Walter E. Brehm of Ohio have testified before a Federal Court jury that they turned back to Brehm part of their monthly salaries while they worked for him.

This testimony came from Mrs Clara Soliday, 74, and Mrs. Emma S. Craven. Mrs. Soliday was a clerk in Brehm's congressional office for three years until January 1948. Mrs. Craven worked for Brehm for 11 months in 1948.

The congressman, a 58-year-old veteran of more than eight years in the House, is charged with accepting $1,380 in illegal campaign contributions from Mrs. Soliday and Mrs. Craven. He has pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Craven told Judge Burnita S. Matthews and a jury of 10 men and two women yesterday that starting in February 1948, she gave Brehm $210 monthly through July of that year. In addition, she said she mailed Brehm a similar amount in August 1948 when he was in Millersport, Ohio, his home.

Mrs. Soliday testified earlier in the week that she turned back more than half of her salary to Brehm over a three-year period. She said she did not know what Brehm did with the money.

The trial was in adjournment today until Monday. When it resumes, Mrs. Craven will be recalled to the witness stand. Ray Baker, one of the prosecuting attorneys, told a reporter the government may complete its case late Monday or early Tuesday.

Lausche Sure M'Arthur Won't "Fade Away"

COLUMBUS, April 20—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said after hearing Gen. Douglas MacArthur's address to Congress yesterday "It is inescapable that he will remain on the scene."

MacArthur had said he would fade away like the old soldier in the barracks ballad.

"It is inescapable that he will remain on the scene to take a leading part in the great controversies which must be resolved in the days that lie ahead," the governor said.

MacArthurs Occupy Hotel Luxury Suite

NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his family are staying in an historic hotel suite here.

A silver plaque in the 10-room presidential suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Towers records that the council of foreign ministers met there from Nov. 4 to Dec. 12, 1946, to agree on a treaty with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Hotel employes remember that the Soviet delegates had a special phone installed in a closet so that they could telephone their superiors at the United Nations periodically for instructions.

Entire Wing

The luxurious suite is located on the 37th floor. It takes up an entire wing of the hotel and has windows that look out north, south, east and west. It has only one entrance, which makes it easy for guards to keep out inquisitive persons.

The suite normally rents for $130 a day. Although hotel officials declined comment, it was reported that MacArthur had reserved it for three weeks and that he would pay the bill.

The living room measures 30 by 50 feet. Its walls are of Williamsburg blue and its eight windows face east, south and west.

Two Flemish tapestries adorn one wall, while antique French chairs and lounges and two huge mirrors add to the decor.

The master bedroom, 22 by 14 feet with pale green walls, has twin beds. From its three pink-draped windows you can see the Palisades in New Jersey. Below the windows loom the majestic architecture of St. Patrick's Cathedral and the modernistic towers of Radio City. A dressing room and bath adjoin.

Son's Room

Young Arthur's room measures 15 by 18 feet, contains twin beds and has pale pink walls and a private bath. There is a third bedroom of the same size.

The dining room is 25 by 18 feet with two windows looking out on the East River and Brooklyn. A light mahogany table can be extended to seat 12 persons. A Chinese screen divides the dining room from a serving pantry of stainless steel.

There also are two maid's rooms with bath.

Manual Gallagher, Peruvian foreign minister, gave up the suite to MacArthur, moving to a four-room suite on the 40th floor. President Vincent Auriol of France occupied the suite just before Gallagher took it over.

PUT OUT GRASS FIRE

Firemen from the West Center street fire station were called to the Marion Power Shovel Co. testing grounds on Uncapher avenue at 2 26 p.m. yesterday to put out a grass fire. Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said that apparently a passerby had carelessly thrown a still burning cigaret into the grass on the lot setting it afire. There was no loss.

Home

Alighting from the plane were the general, his wife, their 13-year-old son, Arthur, and members of MacArthur's staff

Following a greeting by Mayor R. Impellitteri, the five-star general said:

"Come Home"

"When we reach the city of New York we know we have come home."

By arrangement, the airport reception was quiet. About 1,000 official greeters were on hand, headed by the Mayor and Army and Navy officials. Police kept the public from the landing ceremonies.

A band played "The Sidewalks of New York" as MacArthur began his inspection of the honor guard The band ended with the selection, "Old Soldiers Never Die."

The bunting-draped reviewing stand was crowded with newsmen and photographers

MacArthur, his voice hoarse, but appearing trim and fit, paused at the stand and waved to the press.

Then the general entered the open-topped lead car of a motorcade for an almost two-hour trip through city streets to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

14 American Roses

One car carried the smiling Mrs. MacArthur, clutching 14 American beauty roses presented to her by Mrs. Impellitteri.

Each rose represented one year that the MacArthurs had been away from New York. They were married in the Municipal Building here almost 14 years ago.

The motorcade moved through Queens at an average speed of 10 miles an hour.

Thousands lined the sidewalks to get a glimpse of, and cheer the general

Impromptu bands greeted the procession, including a fife and drum corps made up of boys

Firecrackers exploded, red flares lighted up the darkness, and home-made confetti showered like snow upon the motorcade.

People grabbed anything that would serve as noisemakers, even pots, pans, spoons and small bells used at Christmas time Many homes and public buildings were decorated with bunting.

An excited group of about 300 persons broke through police lines and dashed onto the airfield as the plane was landing But police quickly rounded them up and there were no further incidents

Mayor's Promise

City officials headed by official city greeter, Grover Whalen, were on hand to welcome the general informally. Mayor Vincent Impellitteri promised his visitors the city's "biggest and warmest welcome."

Whalen declared: "Let New York be one city on the general's return that has been orderly and has not roughed him up."

The general appeared somewhat tired from his visit in Washington, where he went before Congress to make a fighting defense of the Asia policies which led President Truman to oust him.

Guns boomed a salute, an Army band played a brassy welcome, and flags rippled in the breeze as MacArthur stepped from his plane at 9:25 p.m, E.S.T.

He quickly reviewed an honor guard And pausing before reporters he said: "You know, it has taken me 71 years and travelling 10,000 miles in the last eight days to find out who truly rules the United States. I found out. Its you The press."

The MacArthurs got a sample of the welcome ahead of them as they drove through Queens Borough toward Manhattan. At some points spectators were banked on the sidewalks 20 deep—and they showered the MacArthurs with confetti.

Restrictions On Aluminum Eased

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—The government today lifted its May 1 ban on using aluminum in making more than 200 civilian products. It ordered instead a 50 percent cut in use of the metal during May and June.

In another order, the National Production Authority (NPA) put plastic type nylon under allocation beginning June 1.

This does not apply to textile nylon from which nylon hose and other wearing apparel are manufactured, but does apply to the nylon used in making paint brushes, lenses and various industrial parts.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Minor damage was reported in one traffic accident reported yesterday by police. Cars driven by Fred W. Thacker, 32, of 702 Girard avenue and Donald F London, 36, of near Marion collided on North Main street at 2.12 p.m. yesterday, police said.

Taylor To Head New Wage Panel

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman has begun the task of rebuilding a wage stabilization board to help check inflation and iron out defense disputes.

The White House announced yesterday that Mr. Truman had named Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania as chairman of a proposed 18-man board to supplant the one rendered inoperative when labor members walked out Feb 16.

Ohio Highway Budget Down $30 Million

COLUMBUS, April 20—(AP)—Ohio's highway department will spend nearly 30 million dollars less on construction and maintenance of its frost-damaged highways this year than last.

Highway Director T. J. Kauer today announced a program calling for expenditure of $42,000,000 state and federal money for new construction and $14,000,000 in emergency and normal maintenance.

Last year, the department spent about $85,000,000.

One factor cutting down the state's highway program was last winter's terrific toll from frost Abnormal damage is estimated by Kauer at $12,000,000

This means that $8,000,000 is being taken from the state's construction funds for use on repairs.

If this money could be used in construction to match federal funds, $16,000,000 could be added to the new construction program.

O.W.U. Students Hear Bolling

Delaware, April 20—(AP)—A Republican-dominated group on Congress is dividing the nation, Rep Richard Bolling (D-Mo) told an Ohio Wesleyan University student audience yesterday.

He was the main speaker at the annual "Democratic Day" to stir up student interest in politics.

He asserted a coalition group of 95 percent of the Republicans and 20 percent of the Democrats is "spreading confusion, dividing our nation, and causing it to face the greatest danger in its history."

Bolling referred to Gen. Douglas MacArthur briefly, calling him "a great general and a great soldier."

"Republican Day" will be held next Thursday with Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) as the main speaker.

Complete Text of MacArthur Address to Congress

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—A stenographic transcript of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's address to Congress yesterday follows:

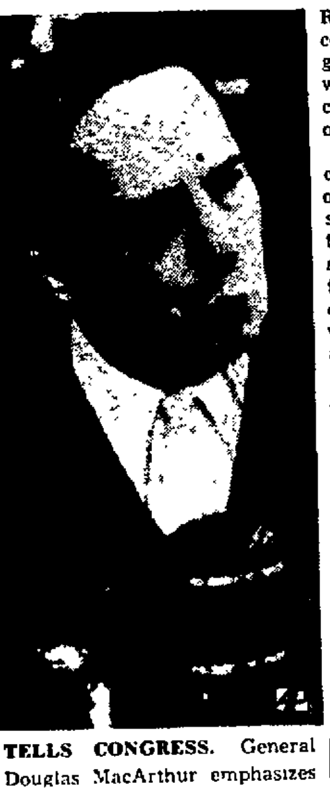
Mr President, Mr. Speaker and distinguished members of the Congress: I stand on this rostrum with a sense of deep humility and pride—humility in the weight of those great architects of our history who have stood here before me, pride in the reflection that this home of legislative debate represents human liberty in the purest form yet devised.

Here are centered the hopes and aspirations and faith of the entire human race.

I do not stand here as advocate for any partisan cause, for the issues are fundamental and reach quite beyond the realm of partisan considerations They must be resolved on the highest plane of national interest if our course is to prove sound and our future protected

I trust, therefore, that you will do me the justice of receiving that which I have to say as solely expressing the considered viewpoint of a fellow American.

I address you with neither rancor nor bitterness in the fading twilight of life, with but one purpose in mind to serve my country (Applause).



TELLS CONGRESS. General Douglas MacArthur emphasizes a point when he reported to Congress yesterday on the Far East.

THE ISSUES ARE GLOBAL. and so interlocked that to consider the problems of one sector oblivious to those of another is to court disaster for the whole While Asia is commonly referred to as the gateway to Europe, it is no less true that Europe is the gateway to Asia, and the broad influence of the one can not fail to have its impact upon the other There are those who claim our strength is inadequate to protect on both fronts, that we can not divide our effort I can think of no greater expression of defeatism (Applause).

If a potential enemy can divide his strength on two fronts, it is for us to counter his effort The Communist threat is a global one Its successful advance in one sector threatens the destruction of every other sector You can not appease or otherwise surrender to communism in Asia without simultaneously undermining our efforts to halt its advance in Europe (Applause)

Beyond pointing out these general truisms, I shall confine my discussion to the general areas of Asia

[illegible] one may objectively assess the situation now existing there, he must comprehend something of Asia's past and the revolutionary changes which have marked her course up to the present Long exploited by the so-called colonial powers, with little opportunity to achieve any degree of social justice, individual dignity or a higher standard of life such as guided our own noble administration in the Philippines, the people of Asia found their opportunity in the war just past to throw off the shackles of colonialism and now see the dawn of new opportunity and heretofore unfelt dignity, and the self-respect of political freedom.

MUSTERING HALF of the earth's population, and 60 percent of its natural resources, these people are rapidly consolidating a new force, both moral and material, with which to raise the living standard and erect adaptation of the design of modern progress, to their own distinct cultural environments

Whether one adheres to the concept of colonialization or not, this is the direction of Asian progress and it may not be stopped. It is a corollary to the shift of the world economic frontiers as the whole epicenter of world affairs rotates back toward the area whence it started.

In this situation, it becomes vital that our own country orient its policies in consonance with this basic evolutionary condition rather than pursue a course blind to reality that the colonial era is now past and the Asia peoples covet the right to shape their own free destiny What they seek now is friendly guidance, understanding and support, not imperious direction (Applause), the dignity of equality and not the shame of subjugation

Their pre-war standard of life, pitifully low, is infinitely lower now in the devastation left in war's wake World ideologies play little part in Asian thinking and are little understood

WHAT THE PEOPLE strive for is the opportunity for a little more food in their stomachs, a little better clothing on their backs and a little firmer roof over their heads, and the realization of the normal nationalist urge for political freedom

These political-social conditions have but an indirect bearing upon our own national security, but do form a backdrop to contemporary planning which must be thoughtfully considered if we are to avoid the pitfalls of unrealism.

Of more direct and immediate bearing upon our national security are the changes wrought in the strategic potential of the Pacific Ocean in the course of the past war

Prior thereto the western strategic frontier of the United States lay on the littoral line of the Americas with an exposed island salient extending out through Hawaii Midway and Guam to the Philippines. That salient proved not an outpost of strength but an avenue of weakness along which the enemy could and did attack. The Pacific was a potential area of advance for any predatory force intent upon striking at the bordering land areas

All this was changed by our Pacific victory. Our strategic frontier then shifted to embrace an entire Pacific Ocean, which became a vast moat to protect us as long as we hold it Indeed, it acts as a protective shield for all of the Americas and all free lands of the Pacific Ocean area. We control it to the shores of Asia by a chain of islands extending in an arc from the Aleutians to the Mariannas, held by us and our free allies,

FROM THIS ISLAND chain we can dominate with sea and air power every Asiatic port from Vladivostok to Singapore—with sea and air power every port, as I said, from Vladivostok to Singapore—and prevent any hostile movement into the Pacific.

Any predatory attack from Asia must be an amphibious effort. No amphibious force can be successful without control of the sea lanes and the air over those lanes in its avenue of advance. With naval and air supremacy and modest ground elements to defend bases, any major attack from continental Asia toward us or our friends in the Pacific would be doomed to failure.

Under such conditions, the Pacific no longer represents menacing avenues of approach for a prospective invader. It assumes, instead, the friendly aspect of a peaceful lake

Our line of defense is a natural one and can be maintained with a minimum of military effort and expense It envisions no attack against anyone, nor does it provide the bastions essential for offensive operations, but properly maintained, would be an invincible defense against aggression.

The holding of this defense line in the western Pacific is entirely dependent upon holding all segments thereof, for any major breach of that line by an unfriendly power would render vulnerable to determined attack every other major segment. This is a military estimate as to which I have yet to find a military leader who will take exception. (Applause)

For that reason I have strongly recommended in the past, as a matter of military urgency, that under no circumstances must Formosa fall under Communist control. (Applause). Such an eventuality would at once threaten the freedom of the Philippines and the loss of Japan might well force our western frontier back to the cost of California, Oregon and Washington. (Applause)

TO UNDERSTAND the changes which now appear upon the Chinese mainland, one must understand the changes in Chinese character and culture over the past 50 years China up to 50 years ago was completely non-homogenous, being compartmented into groups divided against each other. The war-making tendency was almost non-existent as they still followed the tenets of the Confucian ideal of Pacifist culture.

At the turn of the century under the regime of efforts for greater homogenity produced the start of a Nationalist urge. This was further and more successfully developed under the leadership of Chiang Kai-shek, but has been brought to its greatest fruition under the present regime to the point that it has now taken on the character of a united nationalism of increasingly dominant aggressive tendencies.

Through the past 50 years the Chinese people have thus become militarized in their concepts and in their ideals. They now constitute excellent soldiers, with competent staffs and commanders This has produced a new and dominant power in Asia, which, for its own purposes, is allied with Soviet Russia but which in its own concepts and methods has become aggressively imperialistic,(Applause) with a lust for expansion and increased power normal to this type of imperialism.

There is little of the ideological concept either one way or another in the Chinese make-up. The standard of living is so low and the capital accumulation has been so thoroughly dissipated by war that the masses are desperate and eager to follow any leadership which seems to promise the alleviation of woeful stringencies.

I HAVE FROM THE beginning believed that the Chinese Communists' support of the North Koreans was the dominant one. Their interests are at present parallel with those of the Soviet, but I believe that the aggressiveness recently displayed not only in Korea but also in Indo-China and Tibet and pointing potentially toward the south reflects predominantly the same lust for the expansion of power which has animated every would-be conqueror since the beginning of time. (Applause).

The Japanese people since the war have undergone the greatest reformation recorded in modern history. With a commendable will, eagerness to learn, and marked capacity to understand, they have from the ashes left in war's wake erected in Japan an edifice dedicated to the supremacy of individual liberty and personal dignity and in the ensuing process there has been created a truly representative government committed to the advance of political morality, freedom of economic enterprise, and social justice. (Applause).

Politically, economically, and socially Japan is now abreast of many free nations of the earth and will not again fail the universal trust. That it may be counted upon to wield a profoundly beneficial influence over the course of events in Asia is attested by the magnificent manner in which the Japanese people have met the recent challenge of war unrest and confusion surrounding them from the outside and checked communism within their own frontiers without the slightest slackening in their forward progress.

I SENT ALL FOUR of our occupation divisions to the Korean battlefront without the slightest qualms as to the effect of the resulting power vacuum upon Japan. The results fully justified my fair. (Applause).

I know of no nation more serene, orderly and industrious, nor in which higher hopes can be entertained for future constructive service in the advance of the human race.

Of our former ward in the Philippines we can look forward in confidence that the existing unrest will be corrected and a strong and healthy nation will grow in the longer aftermath of the war's terrible destructiveness. We must be patient and understanding and never fail them, as in our hour of need they did not fail us (Applause)

A Christian nation, the Philippines stands as a mighty bulwark of Christianity in the Far East, and its capacity for high moral leadership in Asia is unlimited.

On Formosa, the government of the Republic of China has had the opportunity to refute by action much of the malicious gossip which so undermined the strength of its leadership on the Chinese mainland. (Applause). The Formosan people are receiving a just and enlightened administration with majority representation in the organs of government, and politically, economically and socially they appear to be advancing along sound and constructive lines.

WITH THIS BRIEF INSIGHT into the surrounding areas, I now turn to the Korean conflict

While I was not consulted prior to the President's decision to intervene in support of the Republic of Korea, that decision, from a military standpoint, proved a sound one. (Applause) As I say, it proved to be a sound one, as we hurled back the invader and decimated his forces. Our victory was complete, and our objectives within reach, when Red China intervened with numerically superior forces.

This created a new war and an entirely new situation, a situation not contemplated when our forces were committed against the North Korean invaders: a situation which called for new decisions in the diplomatic sphere to permit the realistic adjustment of military strategy. Such decisions have not been forthcoming. (Applause.)

While no man in his right mind would advocate sending our ground forces into continental China, and such was never given thought, the new situation did urgently demand a drastic revision of strategic planning if our political aim was to defeat this new enemy as we had defeated the old one. (Applause)

Apart from the military need, as I saw it, to neutralize sanctuary protection given the enemy north of the Yalu, I felt that military necessity in the conduct of the war made necessary (1) the intensification of our economic blockade against China, (2) the imposition of a naval blockade against the China coast, (3) removal of restrictions on air reconnaissance of China's coastal area and of Manchuria (Applause), (4) removal of restrictions of the forces of the Republic of China on Formosa, with logistical support to contribute to their effective operations against the Chinese mainland. (Applause).

FOR ENTERTAINING these views, all professionally designed to support our forces in Korea and to bring hostilities to an end with the least possible delay and at a saving of countless American and Allied lives, I have been severely criticized in lay circles, principally abroad, despite my understanding that from a military standpoint the above views have been fully shared by practically every military leader concerned with the Korean campaign, including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff. (Applause) (Standing Ovation)

I called for reinforcements, but was informed that reinforcements were not available. I made clear that if not permitted to destroy the enemy built-up bases north of the Yalu, if not permitted to utilize the friendly Chinese force of some 600,000 men on Formosa, if not permitted to blockade the China coast to prevent the Chinese Reds from getting succor from without, and if there was to be no hope of major reinforcements, the position of the command from the military standpoint forbade victory.

We could hold in Korea by constant maneuver and in an area where our supply line advantages were in balance with the supply line disadvantages of the enemy, but we could hope at best for only an indecisive campaign with its terrible and constant attrition upon our forces if the enemy utilized its fully military potential.

I HAVE CONSTANTLY called for the new political decisions essential to a solution.

Efforts have been made to distort my position. It has been said in effect that I was a warmonger. Nothing could be further from the truth. (Applause.)

I know war as few other men living know it, and nothing to me—(applause)—and nothing to me is more revolting I have long advocated its complete abolition, as its very destructiveness on both friend and foe has rendered it useless as a means of settling international disputes. (Applause)

Indeed, the second day of September, 1945, just following the surrender of the Japanese nation on the battleship Missouri, I formally cautioned as follows:

"Men since the beginning of time have sought peace Various methods through the ages have been attempted to devise an international process to prevent or settle disputes between nations From the very start workable methods were found in so far as individual citizens were concerned, but the mechanics of an instrumentality of larger international scope have never been successful. Military alliances, balances of power, leagues of nations, all in turn failed, leaving the only path to be by way of the crucible of war. The utter destructiveness of war now blocks out this alternative. We have had our last chance. If we will not devise some greater and more equitable system, our armageddon will be at our door. The problem basically is theological and involves a spirit of recrudescence and improvement of human character that will synchronize with our almost matchless advances in science, art, literature and all the material and cultural developments of the past 2,000 years. It must be of the spirit if we are to save the flesh." (Applause.)

But once war is forced upon us, there is no alternative then to apply every available means to bring it to a swift end. War's very object is victory, not prolonged indecision. (Applause).

IN WAR INDEED there can be no substitute for victory. (Applause).

There are some who for varying reasons would appease Red China. They are blind to history's clear lesson, for history teaches with unmistakable emphasis that appeasement but begets new and bloodier wars. It points to no single instance where this end has justified that means, where appeasement has led to more than a sham peace. Like blackmail, it lays the basis for new and successively greater demands until, as in blackmail, violence becomes the only other alternative. Why, my soldiers asked me, surrender military advantages to an enemy in the field? I could not answer. (Applause).

Some may say to avoid spread of the conflict into an all-out war with China, Others, to avoid Soviet intervention. Neither explanation seems valid, for China is already engaging with the maximum power it can commit, and the Soviet will not necessarily mesh its actions with our moves. Like a cobra, any new enemy will more likely strike whenever it feels that the relativity of military and other potentialities is in its favor on a world-wide basis.

The tragedy of Korea is further heightened by the fact that its military action was confined to its territorial limits. It condemns that nation, which it is our purpose to save, to suffer the devastating impact of full naval and air bombardment while the enemy's sanctuaries are fully protected from such attack and devastation.

3 (LAST) 2ND AD SPEECH Txt.

Of the nations of the world, Korea alone, up to now, is the sole one which has risked its all against communism. The magnificence of the courage and fortitude of the Korean people defies description. (Applause) They have chosen to risk death rather than slavery. Their last words to me were: "Don't scuttle the Pacific." (Applause).

I HAVE JUST LEFT your fighting sons in Korea. They have done their best there, and I can report to you without reservation that they are splended in every way. (Applause).

It was my constant effort to preserve them and end this savage conflict honorably and with the least loss of time and a minimum sacrifice of life. Its growing bloodshed has caused me the deepest anguish and anxiety. Those gallant men will remain often in my thoughts and in my prayers always. (Applause)

I am closing my 52 years of military service. (Applause) When I joined the army, even before the turn of the century, it was the fulfillment of all of my boyish hopes and dreams. The world has turned over many times since I took the oath at West Point, and the hopes and dreams have all since vanished, but I still remember the refrain of one of the most popular barracks ballads of that day which proclaimed most proudly that old soldiers never die; they just fade away. And like the old soldier of that ballad, I now close my military career and just fade away, an old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty. Cood Bye. (Applause)

75 Attend First Annual Plant Event

Seventy-five persons attended the first annual supervisors party of the Marion Industries Division of the Motor Products Corp. Friday night at the Marion Country Club.

Henry Heldner, music director of Radio Station WGAR at Cleveland, was principal speaker. He gave a comedy address. The McNally Sisters, a variety act, presented several songs and dances and Edward Baron, a hypnotist also appeared on the program.

Leo G. Jacques, executive vice president of the firm gave a brief talk along with D. J. Bracken, vice president, and H. F. Howard, industrial consultant, all of Detroit. A cocktail hour preceded the dinner. Prizes were awarded D. C. Heindel, Jack Taukert, Francis Wanda, Robert Wood and Morris Bodell. An orchestra furnished entertainment.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party were T. P. Stanton, Elmer Woltman, Homer McGara, Charles Fazio, Charles Faine and Hal Goode.

Merl O. Thompson, plant manager here, served as toastmaster.

CHALK ARTIST

A Sunday night guest at the Thompson Chapel Church of Christ in Christian Union south of Prospect will be Mrs. L. A. Draper of Westerville, a chalk artist. The church is located on State Route 257. This service will be open to the public, the pastor, Rev. W. W. Forrester, announced.

Burglars Stage Breakin at LaRue, Fail in Another

A burglary and an attempted breakin were reported at LaRue last night by Marion County Sheriff LeRoy Retterer. A small radio and a .22 caliber rifle were taken from the Laubis Elevator Co., while burglars were frightened away from the New York Central Freight House.

The sheriff was notified of the attempted breakin at the New York Central by Victor M. Hayes, who heard a disturbance when the burglars pulled open a door at the freight house at 10:30. The noise apparently frightened them, as they left before Mr. Hayes could arrive. He, along with the watchman at the freight house, saw an automobile leaving the vicinity. They told sheriff's deputies the auto contained four men.

The second breakin was not reported to the sheriff until this morning when Ethel Carter, an office girl at the Laubis Elevator, discovered the theft.

Entry was gained by tearing a sheet of steel from the side of the building and crawling through the hole. The radio and rifle were the only objects removed.

B.P.W. Club Endorses Bond Issue

Endorsement of the school bond issue was voted by the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night in a business session at the Jewish Temple social rooms. Mrs. William Barnhouse presided.

It was reported that 14 members will attend state convention in Cleveland in May. A nominating committee was appointed, including Mrs. Edythe Messenger, Miss Wanda Geddis, Miss LaVern Lash and Miss Florence Matthews. Committee chairmen gave reports, and the club constitution was read and bylaws voted revised. Final amount in the Marion County Heart Fund was reported to be $1,300. The county Heart drive was sponsored by the B.P.W. Club in a special effort in February.

At the May dinner meeting, presidents of other Marion service clubs will be guests. The meeting will be May 2 at Hotel Harding.

Eastern Star Marks 54th Anniversary

A dinner meeting was held Monday night by members of Lydia Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, in celebration of its 54th anniversary. The dinner and meeting were held at the Masonic Temple. Honored guests were Mrs. Faye Topliff, grand representative of Indiana; Mrs. Carolyn Evans, charter member; 19 past matrons; 12 past patrons; Ralph Carhart, grand marshall of grand council, and Harold Hall, district deputy grand master.

Following the dinner a short ceremony was held in recognition of the charter member and the past matrons and patrons. Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenson sang "Bless This House" in honor of the guests.

A birthday cake ceremony in honor of the chapter's anniversary was held.

Announcement was made that on May 7 a meeting will be held in honor of Mother's Day with members of Galion, Indian Lake and LaRue chapters as special guests. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Kathryn Smith.

The program was given by the Harding A capella choir. Mrs. Mary Conyers was in charge of the program.

The social committee, composed of Mrs. Hedwig Rech, Mrs. Margaret Rech, Mrs. Margaret Plantz, Mrs. Fahey Jones, Miss Sue Miller and Mrs. Goldie Swope, served refreshments.

PROOF! Above, John Ringling North (President of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus) and circus elephant, "Big Mo." Elephant is hoisting all five tons into air, with rear feet planted on Beautyrest. (Note right foot on edge of mattress.) Yet even this weight failed to break down patented, sag-proof edges. Fralich Named Head of Young Republicans

Succeeds Tozzer As President Of Marion Group

F. HAROLD FRALICH

F. Harold Fralich of 250 Merchant avenue last night was elected president of the Marion County Young Republican Club.

He succeeds Jack C. Tozzer of near Marion as president.

Riley Hall was elected first vice president, George Sakel, second vice president; William Cowles, elected third vice president; Miss Joan Austin, secretary, and Warren Cyders, treasurer.

Council Candidate

Mr. Fralich, an employe of the planning department of the Marion Industries Division, Motor Products Corp., is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the sixth ward seat in city council opposing incumbent Councilman Clarence Sanden. The new club president has been active in Republican political circles for the past two and one half years. He is 28 years old.

His election took place last night at the first meeting of the Young Republican Club of the 1951 season. It was held at Republican Headquarters on the third floor of 136 East Center street.

The organization voted to meet at 7:30 p.m. the third Thursday of each month at party headquarters.

To Name Board Members

At the next meeting May 17 six members of the club's executive board will be elected and a membership drive will be launched under the direction of Mr. Hall.

The May 17 meeting will be primarily social in nature and all Young Republicans, their wives and friends are invited to attend.

A meeting will be held at Mr. Fralich's home May 10 at which he and the other newly elected officers will plan club activities for the summer.

Goal of the club membership drive has been set at 200 members. Last year's membership totaled 130. Mr. Fralich said any Republicans in the county 35 years old or younger are invited to become active members of the club. Republicans over 35 are invited to become associated members.

Special Election May 8

Urge Support of Waldo School Bond Issue, Levy

Support of a $160,000 Waldo school bond issue and a four-mill school operating levy was urged today by a citizens committee composed of residents of the Waldo school district.

Voters in the district will cast ballots on the two proposals at a special election May 8, date of the primary election in Marion and other Ohio cities. A 60 per-cent favorable vote is needed for passage.

The committee, headed by Leon McCorkle of Waldo, termed both proposals "musts" if the school is to continue to operate as a Class 1 school.

The bond issue, which will be paid off by a four-mill levy to run for 19 years, will provide money to remodel, refurnish and equip the present building and to build a combination auditorium, gymnasium and community center addition.

School Needs

The school needs new floors, windows, plaster, paint, and many other repairs, the committee said, and building of the addition will answer a long-felt need for adequate gym and community center facilities. It also will enable the gym room in the present building to be converted into class room space, much needed because of the increase in school population.

An estimated $90,000 of the money would go for remodeling and refurnishing the present school and $70,000 would go for the auditorium-gym.

The committee termed the four-mill operating levy, which will run for two years, "absolutely necessary" to continue operation of the school. It would add an estimated $10,000 a year to the operating funds of the school. If added, the levy will give the school a total of eight mills for operating purposes.

$48 A Year

Together, the four-mill operating levy and the four-mill levy to pay off the bonds would cost the average taxpayer in the district about $48 a year, the committee estimated. This cost is based on a property tax evaluation of $6,000, the average for the district.

If both proposed levies are approved, the total levy in the township will be 21.26 mills, or $21.26 per thousand dollars of tax evaluation.

This will compare with the following townships in the area as follows: Claridon, 19.84; Pleasant, 19.12; and Prospect 20.22.

"We cannot successfully run businesses or farms today with 1925 equipment," the committee said in urging support of the proposals. "Our school building and equipment is badly out of date and in need of an overhaul. Our children are entitled to and should receive better education which can only be provided with expenditure of money for better buildings, equipment, better paid teachers, better books, etc."

Members of the committee are Donald Demorest, Mrs. Willis Klingel, Frederick Bauer, Wayland Temple, Henry Rengert, and Robert Augenstein of near Waldo, and Mrs. Leo Newell, Leo Groll, Harold Denman, Mrs. Gail Shoaf, and James H. Ward of Waldo.

Takes Part In College Marathon

Richard Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Graham of 189 East Walnut street, represented his fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon, at the "Greek Week" ceremonies taking place on Ohio University campus this week.

Opening the four-day program was the traditional burning torch marathon from Logan to Athens, a distance of 26 miles. Mr. Graham was one of the runners.

This feature, started three years ago, emulates the Greek runner who ran 26 miles with a torch to announce victory in the battle with the Spartans on the Plains of Athens. One man from each of 17 fraternities took part in this year's marathon, with each running about a mile and a half. The final runner carried the lighted torch to the campus, where invocation ceremonies were held dedicating the torch and officially opening Greek Week.

Auxiliary To G.I. Post Backs School Bond Issue

When the auxiliary to G.I. Post No. 584, American Legion, met recently, members voted to endorse the school bond issue. Announcement was made that the auxiliary's delegate to Girl's State would be Miss Susie Simmons, and alternates, Miss Ann Fellmeth and Regina Cleveland.

A donation was given to the Hobart Portrait Fund. It was explained that this is a fund to which auxiliaries throughout the country are contributing to honor the first national president of American Legion auxiliaries. Initiation was in charge of Mrs. Robert Barrett. At a meeting of the group April 25 at the Veterans Memorial Home, a film on cancer will be shown.

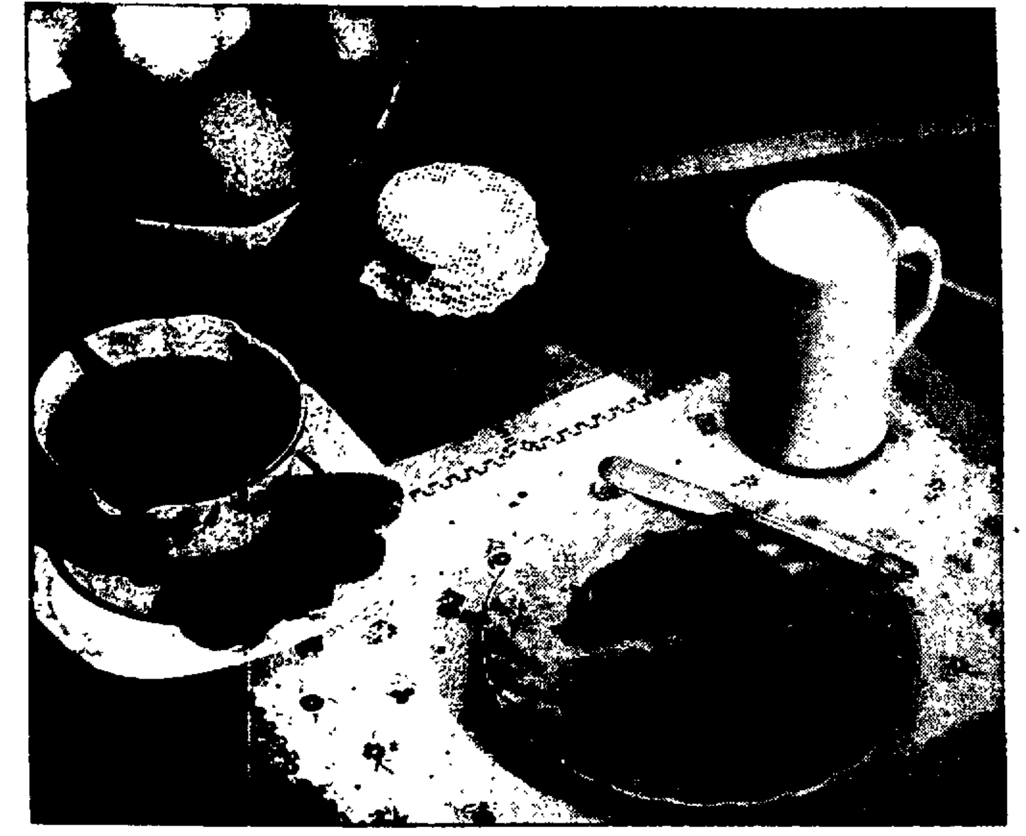
Marmalade Uses Grapefruit, Orange, Lemon



DESIGNED to please the knee-pants set is this delicious snack of homemade marmalade, milk and crackers. It's appetizing to look at, good to eat, and more important full of nutrition, too. No youngster will need coaxing to sample the unusual marmalade, which combines the fine flavors of three fruits. You'll want to keep some on hand all year round for after-school nibbling.

THREE-FRUIT MARMALADE

1 orange
1 grapefruit
1 lemon
½ bottle liquid pectin
1½ cups water
⅛ t soda
6 cups sugar

Remove skins in quarters from 1 orange, 1 grapefruit and 1 lemon. Lay quarters flat; cut off and discard most of white part. With a sharp knife, slice rind very thin. Put in very large saucepan, add 1½ cups water and ⅛ teaspoon soda. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for just 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut membrane from peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp, juice and 1 cup sugar to undrained cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer.

Add remaining sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and quickly stir in pectin. Stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 8 six-ounce glasses.

cause of that the danger of saying or doing the wrong thing is very great. Republican leaders must also exercise great care or their present advantage will disappear.

Their advantage is that if Asiatic affairs do not turn out well, they can say that their prescription should have been followed. Their danger lies in the chance — and it is more than a chance — that the Truman course will result in peace in Korea and a rehabilitated Japan. If that happens, a feeling of profound relief will sweep the country. For however [illegible] policy may be the [illegible] deadly it may be [illegible] of lives will be [illegible] accepted. It may be [illegible] not until [illegible] years had passed and [illegible] Norway [illegible] that the British [illegible] ready [illegible] appeaser.

• • •

IN ASSESSING ALL the potential angles [illegible] it must [illegible] that the chance of General Eisenhower's nomination by the Republicans is less [illegible] than it was. He has been [illegible] supported by Dewey and other Republicans [illegible] what might be called the Northeastern wing of the party. The rest of the party has not [illegible] on Eisenhower [illegible].

It [illegible] that MacArthur will be the major spokesman for an Asiatic policy and Eisenhower for a strong European policy, and the opinion of the country, thus divided, will seek to make a choice between them.

I have recently had the opportunity to study political sentiment in Texas and other Southern states, and it has been clear to me that if Eisenhower should become the Democratic candidate, all hope for a conservative North-South coalition will be gone for years. On the other hand if Eisenhower should be the Republican candidate, such a coalition would be almost automatic, for Eisenhower as a Republican would carry Texas and possibly half of the other southern states. He would then be in a position to build a nation-wide conservative party.

These are some of the political implications of the present controversy. In the midst of this conflict, the voices that call for unity are hardly audible. Perhaps this is because no one has suggested how there can be a compromise on this political and military issue.

MASONS CONFER DEGREES

Marion Chapter 22, Royal and Select Masters, conferred degrees at a meeting Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple. Announcement was made that the annual inspection of the lodge will be May 19 in connection with the annual York Rite Reunion, which will be held in Marion beginning May 16.

MORRAL GROUP MEETS

The third meeting of the Morral Mix-Masters was held at the school Monday. Games were played and projects discussed. Refreshments were served by Fairy Atha and Jeannie Parker.

Upper Youths Present Program

Four young musicians from Upper Sandusky presented the program on the radio broadcast of the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, over Station WMRN Wednesday night. Appearing was a trio composed of Misses Miriam Hale, Kay Worline and Corrine Gibson, and David Meeker, accompanist. The trio received a rating of "excellent" in the recent music festival of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs in Columbus. A high rating was won by the pianist there also.

Numbers by the trio included "Glorious Apollo," Webb, "Prayer of a Norwegian Child," Kountz, "The China Figure," Gustenklemm, and "Raindrops Story," Senob. The pianist played as a solo "Berceuse," Godard. This was another in a series of Central District broadcasts arranged by Mrs. Lewis Wills of Marion, district radio chairman.

W.S.W.S. UNIT MEETS

Two new members were enrolled in the W.S.W.S. of Oakland Evangelical United Brethren Church at a joint meeting of the society and the Christian Services Guild at the Oakland Church Parish House Tuesday night. They were Mrs. Lulu Williamson and Mrs. Maude Emery. The president of the W.S.W.S., Mrs. Martha Vermillion presided. The program opened with a piano solo by Susanne Rinnert followed by scripture read in unison and prayers by Mrs. Ida Hecker and Mrs. Peggy Vance. Mrs Vermillion gave a reading, followed by a solo by Diane Rinnert, accompanied by her sister, Susanne Rinnert. Darrell Vermillion showed pictures of "Let The Children Come", and Mrs. Thelma Wilcox, teacher of religious education in the public schools, spoke on "Building Tomorrow's World with Today's Children." Mrs. J R. Dallas gave a summary of the "Christian Events Around the World," and during the business session, members voted to continue the offering to the youth work at Red Bird Mission in Kentucky. Delegates were elected for the missionary convention to be held in Vermilion, O in June. They were Mrs. Martha Vermillion, W.S.W.S., Mrs. Ruth Oyler, mission band, and Mrs. Dorothy Cashell, alternate. Mrs. George Leedam closed the meeting with prayer, and refreshments were served by the executive committee. The next meeting will be May 10 at the Parish House.

CAN'T WIN. Everything to lose, nothing to gain—that apparently is the position of the local Y.M.C.A. in running the city softball program again this season.

This scapegoat role of the Y was clearly brought out by Arthur Haas, general secretary, at the organization meeting of the Marion softball commission Wednesday night.

VOTE FOR SOFTBALL. Before addressing the 68 men on hand, Art pointed out that the Y is "heartily in favor of a softball program for Marion."

He then went on to explain the Y.M.C.A. relationship to softball. Despite popular belief, the Y is only a "clearing house and information center," he told the listeners.

"The institution has no connection with admissions of teams drawings of schedules or other administrative duties relative to the program," Art said.

$500 DOLLARS POORER. "Actually," Art said "the assistance given to softball costs the Y about $500 a year." He pointed out this cost is brought about by the hiring of a part-time helper in the association's physical department to replace Vern Miller, athletic director, who serves as secretary for the league.

MATTER OF PRESTIGE. Although the Y general secretary was apparently offering no gripe he did get across that his association was more concerned with loss of prestige than the money.

A loud gripe, contrary to what many think, is a healthy indication of interest and entirely normal, but when it is directed unfairly at an organization going out of its way to do a service, it becomes something else.

Most gripes heard from softball players last season usually began and ended with a condemnation of the association.

NO SUPPORT. It was fitting that players as well as fans have been enlightened on the Y role. The local softball commission supports the entire program, unlike other cities the size of Marion which runs it through the city recreation plan and provides financial backing.

The entire cost of the program last season, including equipment umpires, lights, etc. came to $2,917.87. Money collected in fees, special games, and collection from "passing the hat" among the fans amounted to $2,652.11.

With the $275.26 in the fund at the start of the season and the $284.28 the commission has in softballs to start the year, the enterprise actually cleared $18.52 last season.

CHEERS. The softball commission deserves a round of cheers for its work in making last season a success despite weather conditions and other handicaps. Roy Waddell, who has served as treasurer for 23 years, especially deserves a pat on the back.

Now that it has been pointed out the capacity of the Y in Marion softball, it is hoped that everyone will direct their gripes either at the weather or the world situation in general. None of which the Y has any authority over—.

Gavilan Fights MinelliTonight

NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—Kid Gavilan, the flashy Cuban hawk, takes on cagey Aldo Minelli of Italy at St. Nicholas arena tonight in his final warmup for his May 18 welterweight title bout with Johnny Bratton.

The 10 p.m. (E.S.T.), bout will be carried on network radio (A.B.C.) and television (N.B.C.).

Bratton, already safely past his final tuneup with a T.K.O. win over Don Williams at Detroit Wednesday, will fight Gavilan for the world title at Madison Square Garden. Although the N.B.A. recognizes Bratton as champ for beating Charlie Fusari, New York state will wait to crown the Bratton-Gavilan survivor.

Chicago White Sox, Cubs Leading Leagues

Trade For Zarilla Helps Pale Hose

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe it's only Al Zarilla but the White Sox are hitting like Red Sox now.

Zarilla is making Frank Lane, the Chicago general manager, look like the American League's Brank Rickey. And all because of a deal that looked like a bum move last December.

They laughed when Lane traded Ray Scarborough and Bill Wight to Boston for Zarilla, Joe Dobson and Dick Littlefield. "Must be plenty of dough involved," the wise guys said. Lane said "no."

"Even Trade"

Lane kept insisting it was an "even trade" that would help both clubs. All winter it seemed Boston's Red Sox would be the only club helped. Most experts thought the two regular pitchers assured them the pennant. It may yet, but the first week's evidence is against them.

Wight, knocked out by New York opening day, was Boston's first loser. Zarilla, bursting with power, is hitting .445 with two home runs, a double and two singles accounting for seven RBI's in two days.

The Zarilla fever is catching. Or maybe it's the St. Louis Brownie pitching. Chicago has flailed the Brownie staff for a total of 30 runs and 33 hits in two days for a club batting average just under the .400 mark. Naturally they won both games.

Zarilla and Eddie Robinson each spanked a three-run homer yesterday in the 13-5 rout of the Browns before only 1,079 fans. Both came off loser Al Widmar.

It's been years since you didn't have to turn the newspaper upside down to find both Chicago teams on top. But look quick, before something happens. Both the White Sox and Cubs are riding high, tied for first place.

Frankie Frisch, Cub manager, got a well-pitched game from Paul Minner, the Dodger refugee, to shut out Cincinnati, 3-0, on seven hits. Willie (The Knuck) Ramsdell was the victim as the Reds lost their third straight. Andy Pafko drove in two of the club runs.

The New York Giants and Boston concluded their opening series all even by splitting a patriot's day doubleheader after a six-hour 41-minute wrestle. The second game, a 10-inning affair, was played under lights from the third inning on and finished in a drizzle.

Jim Hearn won the opener, 4-2, with steady seven-hit ball.

Earl Torgeson finally broke up the wild second game at 8:10 p.m. by singling off Dave Koslo with the bases loaded for a 13-12 edge. The Giants had scored five in their eighth with the help of a bases-loaded homer by Monte Irvin.

Chet Nichols a 20-year-old southpaw, won his first big league game.

Rain and cold weather polished off the rest of yesterday's program.

WALKING RACE

CINCINNATI, April 20—(AP)—Sebastian Linehan, National A.A.U. walking chairman, said today he expects the largest field in history for the National A.A.U. 50,000 meters walking race to be held May 20. The race will be from six miles east of Neville, O., to Coney Island amusement park near here.

Hiroshima Survivor Wins Marathon Run

BOSTON, April 20—(AP)—Any lingering doubts hereabouts that Asiatics are not the world's best marathon runners have been dispelled by Japan's 19-year-old Shigeki Tanaka, a survivor of the atomic bomb that wrecked his home city of Hiroshima in 1945.

Tanaka is the third Far-Easterner to win the Boston A. C.'s famed 26 miles-385 yards race since 1947, when Korea's Yon Bok Suh set the course record of 2.25:39. Last year, Kee Yong Ham and two other Koreans finished 1-2-3.

Tanaka, about to enroll in a Tokyo college, crossed the finish line two-thirds of a mile ahead of the B. A. A.'s John Lafferty. His time was 2:27:45.

CINNCINNATI, April 20—(AP)—Maybe something will happen soon but that team which apparently is being left at the post again is the Cincinnati Reds.

The chastened Reds who thought they were ready for a running start in the National League pennant chase limped in home from Chicago today with three straight defeats already chalked up against them.

It was reminiscent of last year when the Redlegs fluttered and flopped in the early stages until they never had a chance to get out of the deeper regions of the second division.

The third straight licking was a 3 to 0 setback from the Chicago Cubs. The Reds got seven hits off Paul Minner but couldn't put them together.

Meanwhile, the Cubs were doing just the opposite. They got only six safe blows off Willie Ramsdell but they got them when men were in a position to score.

For the first time in the regular season however, Cincinnati went through a complete game without an error.

Manager Luke Sewell said the boys would have a short workout today — an open date — in the hopes of sharpening them up to break out of their losing streak.

He plans to use Howie Fox tomorrow in the opener of a three-game home series against Pittsburgh.

Bucks Take On Minnesota Nine

CHICAGO, April 20—(AP)—Defending co-champion Michigan, winner of five out of six southern training trip games and sporting a .319 team batting average is host to Illinois today and tomorrow in a featured Big Ten baseball series.

The two teams will be making their conference start. Illinois was scheduled to open at Iowa a week ago but the two-game set was postponed by rain.

In other Big Ten openers today, Iowa is at Northwestern and Minnesota at Ohio State. Iowa, a top-ranking pennant favorite, lost 3-0 and 11-0 this week in a two game series at Notre Dame.

Iberia Downs Edison, 4-1

Special to The Star

IBERIA, April 20—Iberia's Presidents registered their second win of the season here yesterday by edging Edison, 4-1, in a pitching duel. The game was called at the end of five innings because of cold weather. Both teams collected only two hits in the contest. Iberia clinched the verdict with two runs in the third frame. The Prexies were to meet Leesville here today.

"No Substitute for Victory"

MacArthur Spirit Aided Army in Licking Navy

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, April 20—(UP)—The kids were tense and jittery as they waited it out. Only a football game sure, but Army hadn't lost all season and out there in the gray December afternoon a hungry Navy team was waiting to write another upset chapter.

Then the coach stepped up on a bench and read them a message. It said:

"Army men, I send you one single thought, one sole idea written in red on every beachhead from Australia to Tokyo. There is no substitute for victory!"

It was signed: "Douglas MacArthur."

Die Under Him

Some of those cadets were to serve under MacArthur later. Some of them like big Johnny Trent, a drawling kid from Memphis, were to die under him. But that afternoon, as he did for so many other soldiers, MacArthur gave them a lift.

Army trotted out of there that afternoon in 1949 and murdered the Navy, 38 to 0.

Today, as New York welcomes MacArthur, they're waiting at West Point for the general to come home. For it was from the grim, gray fortress towering above the Hudson that Douglas MacArthur started his journey into the heart of a nation.

There he is no mythical figure out of the history books. The plains knew him as an athlete, an officer vitally interested in sports and a friend who never lost touch even during those bitter days when he was halfway around the world.

Played Baseball

They remember him as a slim, handsome youngster who was a varsity second baseman and left fielder on the Army baseball teams of 1901-'02 and '03. They remember him as the prodding manager of the 1902 football team which beat the Navy, 22 to 8.

He went away, to early fame as commander of the Rainbow Division, but always he came back. The first time was as superintendent of the academy from 1919 to 1922. He was perturbed then that Army had only five or six major sports. Before he left they had 18—and a new gymnasium. And after watching Army lose three years to Navy, he brought in a brilliant football coach named Bob Neyland. The extended athletic policy he formulated still is in use today.

MacArthur went away again, but the idea that athletics are important he carried into his new command in the Third Corps area. His teams soon won renown, enough so that MacArthur was picked to head the 1928 Olympic team at Amsterdam. The general took full command.

No Snipping

When A.A.U. officials sneered at Charley Paddock's amateurism, MacArthur barked: "We'll have no sniping from the rear."

When the boxing coach thought he got a raw deal and wanted to withdraw, the general snapped:

"You'll do no such thing, sir. Americans do not quit."

And then he rounded up the whole team and told them:

"Remember, we are here representing the greatest country on earth. We didn't come here to lose gracefully. We came here to win—and win decisively."

They did.

It's no secret at West Point that during the intervening years since he has been home he discussed, by letter, tactical strategy with the football coaches. The general meant it when he said:

"Upon the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds that, upon other fields, on other days, will bear the fruits of victory."

Toledo Wins 3rd Straight in A.A.

By The Associated Press

Toledo, a seventh place finisher in 1950, boosted its third straight win yesterday to remain the only undefeated clan in the young American Association season.

Milt Jordan, a rookie righthander, twirled a three-hitter in the chilly afternoon game to blank St. Paul 7-0. He walked six and struck out four to give the Mud Hens a sweep of their three-game series over the Saints.

Kansas City absorbed its first defeat in three starts by bowing, 6-5, at Louisville.

At Columbus, the Red Birds downed Minneapolis 6-3 to square the series at one game apiece. Herb Moford, 22-year-old Columbus rookie, was relieved by Jack Crimian with one out in the ninth—but up to that point he had limited the Millers to six hits. They bunched three runs off him in the fourth.

Bob Hall made his Association debut with Milwaukee and pitched and batted the Brewers to an 11-6 triumph over Indianapolis.

Detroiters Eye A.B.C. Team Title

ST. PAUL, April 20—(AP)—The E & B Beer of Detroit, one of the nation's top bowling squads for the past two years, will attempt to capture its first American Bowling Congress title tonight.

The current national match game champions have captured the team all-events title of the A.B.C. the past two years, but haven't been able to come up with the actual team crown. The team's best showing was in 1949 at Atlantic City when it finished third.

Clyde Potter of Cuyahoga Falls, O. took over the singles lead yesterday. He posted the first 700 series in that division and the fourth since the tourney started on April 7. He put together games of 255, 247 and 221 for a 723 total and a 25-pin lead. Potter, who has been bowling for 22 years, was competing in his 17th A.B.C.

Potter's performance overshadowed that of Dick Hoover of Akron, O., 1950 national individual All-Star match game champion. It was the best individual effort in a day that found two changes in the doubles and one in the all-events.

Hoover, after a 683 in the team event Wednesday night, faltered to 576 in the doubles and 625 in the singles to end with an all-events total of 1,884. This was good for 16th place.

Yoter's Crew In 1st Drills Here Monday

Marion will get its first glimpse of the 1951 Red Sox Monday at 11 a.m. Local club officials have set their first workout at Lincoln Park for that time.

The Marsox will go through two "get acquainted" drills at the local ball yard before the league opener Tuesday night against the Springfield Giants.

Lee Watson, caretaker at the park, said the diamond would be in tip-top shape for the lid lifter. He and a crew of four men have been working overtime on getting set. A repair project on the box seats behind the plate has been completed with the laying of new flooring. The infield and outfield grass has been mowed and probably will be rolled today or tomorrow.

Looks for Clay

Watson said he was searching for a load of clay to be used on the baselines. The clay will be mixed and used to fill and level the lines. New uniforms have been obtained from Louisville and will be issued to team members.

Manager Elmer Yoter's crew is expected to arrive in Marion sometime Sunday. Training quarters at Ocala, Fla., will be closed today or tomorrow and the team is set to fly to Columbus. Upon their arrival at Columbus Sunday, the entire group will be transported to Marion by automobiles.

A local spokesman for the club said the players would be given Sunday to get acquainted with their new landlords and the city.

Following the workout Monday noon, the squad will be given Monday night off to look over the city. A final light workout will be held by Skipper Yoter Tuesday afternoon.

Y GROANERS READY

TOLEDO, O., April 20—(AP)—The annual National Y.M.C.A wrestling championships start here today. Preliminaries are scheduled this afternoon and evening. Semifinals will be tomorrow. Eighty wrestlers including seven defending champions will participate.

Harding Team In Mansfield Relays

Ted Price, Harry Applegett, Dick Bracey and Dee Price will carry Harding's colors in the four-mile relay race this afternoon at Mansfield.

The four-mile grind opens the 1951 edition of the Mansfield Relays. The 17 other events in the program are scheduled for tomorrow.

Nine teams from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan are entered in today's long run. Mt. Lebanon, Pa., Grand Rapids, Mich., Central Catholic and Lima Central are favored to cop the crown. Mt. Lebanon won the 1950 cross country title of Pennsylvania while Lima's ace, Ronnie Truex, won the individual crown for Ohio cross-country and will make his team a threat.

14 Take Part

Fourteen Harding thinclads will take part in tomorrow's action, Coach Ken Somerlot announced today. Big Paul Ludwig will take part in the shotput and two hurdle events while Gene Winters and Dan Geran will heave the discus. Dan Day and Jim Kennell are set for the broad jump and Ed Weary and Tom Bascos the high jumps. Dick Bender will carry Harding's hopes in the pole vault.

Three Prexie relay teams will run tomorrow afternoon. In a medley relay John Ashworth will run the 880 leg, Paul Geisler, the 220, Dan Day the 440 and Ted Price the mile. Day, Jim Condron, Jack Garver and Geissler are set for the 880-yard relay while Ashworth, Ludwig, Dick Tway and Day will run in the mile relay.

Dave Ulrich and Jim Kennell are alternates for tomorrow's action.

Some 913 high school trackmen from 70 schools in the three-state area are entered in the meet. The finals begin at 2 p.m. tomorrow and are expected to draw nearly 4,000 fans.

Twenty two-foot trophies and 220 medals will be awarded the winners of the meet.

Truman To Toss First Ball Out For Nats, Yanks

WASHINGTON, April 20—(AP)—President Truman tries again to get the Washington baseball season opened today under conditions which are a little surprising.

For the unbeaten New York Yankees were to meet the unbeaten Washington Senators. And whoever would have thought that the Senators would be tied with the Yanks for first place in the American League even briefly?

All the festivities originally scheduled for Monday, when a drizzle kept the two teams from playing, were to be put on today, with Mr. Truman throwing out the first pitch at 2 p.m. (E.S.T.).

Then the two teams will play again at 8:30 p.m., in a game in which all the hoopla will be missing but which will count just as much in the standings.

Fair And Cool

The weather man has promised to be a better boy this time. His latest guess: fair and cool.

In all the excitement around this town over Gen. Douglas MacArthur, it has been a little difficult to find an answer to this important question:

In what shape is Mr. Truman's good left arm?

It had better be in good shape, for Mr. Truman hasn't had much luck in opening against the Yankees. They beat him 7-0 in 1947 and 12-4 in 1948.

On the other hand, after his opening presidential pitch in 1949 and last year, the Nats went on to beat the A's, 3-2 and 8-7.

Manager Harris said hopefully of the President:

"He's got a two-game winning streak going, and I know he'll be

Beulah Park To Open Racing Season May 5

The Beulah management will invite the winners of the top races in the state to the course at nearby Grove City for the Ohio championship, to be run there in the fall.

The top event during Beulah's spring season is the Governor's Handicap, May 26.

Ohio Edison Will Enlarge Burger Plant

Plans for Addition Costing $22 Million Are Announced

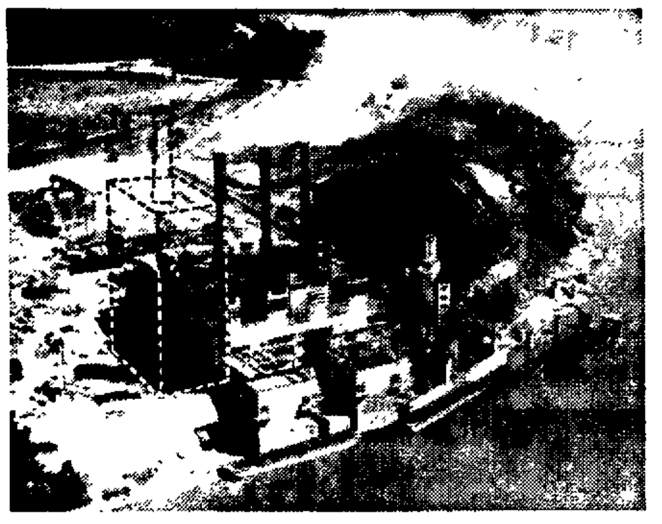
Walter H Sammis, president of the Ohio Edison Company, announced today at the company's main office in Akron that orders have been placed by the utility for another new turbo generating unit, the third new unit ordered in the past several months in an accelerated program of construction to provide ample electric power for defense and civilian needs.

Ohio Edison serves Marion and other central Ohio communities. Offices of the Marion division of which Harold J. Grigsby is general manager, are located at 198 South Main street.

The new unit, which will be the largest turbo generator on the entire Ohio Edison system, will produce 135,000 kilowatts of electrical power, and will be installed in an addition to be built to the R. E Burger plant located on the Ohio River below Bellaire O.

Great Capacity

The giant generator will be capable of supplying all of the electric power needs for a city of 150,000 people. Cost of the unit, plus the building addition to house it and auxiliary equipment, is estimated at approximately $22,000,000. With the new addition, the Burger plant will become the largest power producer in the Edison system.



OHIO EDISON'S R. E BURGER power plant, located on the Ohio River below Bellaire, Ohio. The dotted lines indicate location of the new $22,000,000 addition.

Energy generated will be fed into Ohio Edison's interconnected system of power lines serving a large section of Ohio including Akron, Alliance, Ashland, Barberton, Elyria, Kent, Lorain, Mansfield Marion, Massillon Port Clinton, Ravenna Salem, Sandusky, Warren and Youngstown.

Work on the plant addition will be started in 1952, and the generator is expected to be in operation late in 1954, provided no delays are encountered because of allocations of materials and manpower made by governmental agencies in connection with the re-armament program.

Niles Plant Started

In addition to this new unit at the Burger plant, Ohio Edison Company broke ground in January for construction of a new 212,000-kilowatt power plant at Niles Ohio, to cost $30,800,000. The first of two units at the Niles plant is scheduled for service in the spring of 1953, and the second in the fall of 1953.

The Scioto power plant at Newmans near Prospect, is a part of Ohio Edison's system.

Expansion of the Burger plant and the building of the new Niles plant are part of the biggest construction program in Ohio Edison's history In the past five years approximately $126,400,000 has been expended for construction of new facilities — power plant additions, lines poles, substations, transformers and other equipment.

Bond Issue Backed By C. of C. Group

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce voted to endorse the $2,900,000 school bond issue at a meeting at Hotel Harding Wednesday.

The committee also voted to work with members of the Junior Service Guild in circulating petitions for zoning in rural areas of the county.

Legal procedure to establish such zoning regulations outside the city requires the circulation of petitions which are to be filed with the county commissioners asking that zoning be established in the township or townships, or in the county as a whole, The commissioners then name a board to set up zoning rules, which are submitted to voters in the districts concerned for approval or rejection.

LIFE IN RUSSIA

IVAN, we are proud to say is holder of two awards from Uncle Joe for meritorious achievement in the used car field. (Hero 2nd Class and the Anna Puka Medal). Out of the 22 customers he has been able to sell cars this past year, (People who can afford a car in Russia are hard to find), 13 are still alive. 3 were executed, when they couldn't explain where they got the money to make the purchase. 4 were killed in accidents because no parts were available for needed repairs. One anemic purchaser died when the second installment was due (40,000 Rubles and 1½ quarts of blood), he was a pint short. Ivan's final purchaser made the mistake of asking for an adjustment to his carburetor. (He is presumed dead). He carries the largest stock in Russia and at the present has these four fine communist values:

1947 Buttinsky
(Genuine Russian)
PRICE
1,500,000 Rubles

1939 Dodge Sedan
2nd Grade Capitalistic Model
PRICE
2,500,000 Rubles

1937 Packard Sed.
This car in fine condition in spite of origin
PRICE
1,733,000 Rubles

1929 Fordinsky
(Capitalistic) half worn out. Russian half still good
PRICE
99,000 Rubles

LIFE IN OUR TOWN, U.S.A.

JAKE, we are proud to say, is a genuine capitalist John Doe. He is a home owner in your community, a tax payer (who gripes about it) with representation. He has served his country well in war and peace. He also has the knack of selling used cars that make people happy. He presents thoroughly reconditioned cars, that are as easy to sell as finding Russian propaganda in Germany. He has received no medals from Harry other than a tax statement, but is proud of the fact that all 481 purchasers of his this past year are alive and well. At latest count no accidents due to faulty equipment or parts (because of thorough reconditioning). He maintains this fine condition that exists in his country is not to be taken lightly. Freedom of choosing and buying where one pleases is defended by Jake as part of his heritage from his pappy. He entices purchasers by selling the best, in a friendly and courteous manner and by trying in the American way to give more for less.

The "Stopper" Is Important Too!
We Mean "GOOD BRAKES" On Your Car
Your car may W-h-r-r away when you step on the starter . . . the engine may run smoothly, and you may have a lot of zip . . . BUT . . . the next important question is, "How quickly can you STOP it?"

Get a Brake-Service job at ARDREY'S and you won't have to worry about that. That's one of the things that we are exceptionally good at. We have well trained Brakemen who know their business, and they have the very best equipment to work with.

Next time you have any trouble with the Brakes, just drive in to ARDREY'S, and we'll show you that we're not "talking through our hats."

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Gallstones Without Symptoms

The patient with gallstones is likely to suffer from attacks of pain under the right lower rib margin, together with sickness at the stomach and vomiting. Nor is he entirely comfortable between attacks, for at all times he is apt to be plagued with excessive gas in the stomach and bowel.

Occasionally, however, stones may be present in the gallbladder without causing any symptoms at all. This does not mean that such silent stones are without danger. As a matter of fact many surgeons hold that there can be no such thing as an innocent or harmless gallstone. The damage it creates may not show itself for a long time, but it is likely for this reason to be very considerable in the end.

Unfortunately, no medical cure for gallstones seems as yet to have been found, that is, there is no treatment by drugs or other methods which will cause the stones to be eliminated. Hence, the only way of removing the stone, insofar as is known at present, is by means of surgery.

One of the dangers which exists with undiscovered stones is rupture of the gallbladder. Should this happen, immediate operation is required because, when the gallbladder ruptures, there is danger of the development of infection of the lining membrane of the abdomen, or peritonitis.

Another common complication of gallbladder inflammation and stones is inflammation of the pancreas. Acute inflammation of the pancreas is a serious disorder. Hence, prompt removal of the gallstones when they are discovered is important from the standpoint of preventing this condition.

It has also been estimated that about one out of twenty persons who have gallstones may develop a malignant tumor of the gallbladder. Once this has occurred, the chances of saving a person's life by operation or by any other method is slight.

Disregarding all other complications which may occur with gallstones, in the light of the fact that malignant changes may take place, the importance of early operation can be seen. Removal of the infected gallbladder with stones present will also improve the patient's general well-being.

Thus, when gallstones are present, there should be no unnecessary delay in having the operation carried out.

LONG SLEEVE

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

With a pardonable little feeling of triumph at having successfully "made my deadline," I put the last two copies of Bill's dossier upon his fiancee, Mildred Gray, into their envelopes, and held them out to Dicky.

"There you are'" I whispered. "every 't' crossed, and every 'i' dotted."

You'll be decorated by 'the Brass'," he whispered, as he turned and went back to the room where my father and Mr. "X" were waiting.

I sank back in my chair, feeling a little spent, and wondered how long "the duration" would be. Then, to my surprise, the door opened again, and Dicky spoke from it.

"'The Chief' wishes you to come in and talk to 'X' a bit," he said, and I rose quickly and went to the door. Dicky met me before I reached it, and with his hand beneath my elbow escorted me through it.

My father and Mr. "X" were standing as I entered, and Dicky put me into the chair my father indicated, after they had greeted me. Then the three men sat down, and my father spoke incisively.

"Bill talked to you at some length about his fiancee, Mildred Gray" he said, with a rising inflection.

"Yes, he did," I answered, knowing that my father wished no unnecessary words in replies made to him.

"He told you things that he has not mentioned in this dossier?"

"Yes." I said, and something in my voice must have told my father what I was feeling, for he spoke with quick emphasis.

"Please understand me. I want you to tell Mr. 'V' everything that Bill said which would give a good candid camera mental shot of her But, you also know that I want nothing tender, or —sacred—which was said in confidence unless it is vital to Mr. 'X' 's understanding of the girl."

With a quick upsurge of relief, I gave my father a grateful, affectionate smile.

"Thank you, Father," I said. "Will you let me think for a minute?"

"For ten, if you wish," he said, smiling back at me. "Richard is going to arrange by telephone for the college president to see 'X' tomorrow. That will give 'X' a chance to break his journey for a good night's sleep, and tomorrow will be plenty of time for interviewing my friend. So take your time, my dear."

"Thank you," I said again, and then sank back into my chair and closed my eyes, my invariable practice when I am concentrating on something.

The dossier was on the tip of my tongue, for I had memorized it. Then I went over my conversations with Bill about his fiancee, weedling out all his tender rhapsodies, especially about wanting a child of his, if he should go to war.

When I had my facts marshalled, I looked up at my father.

"It's quite a long story," I said. "Are you sure you want it all?"

"Every word," he said. "Have you a pencil ready, 'X'?"

Vandenberg Rites Set

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 20—(AP)—An honor guard stood at the bier of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg today as his home city and world and nation mourned him.

U. S. leaders will be here tomorrow at funeral services for the Michigan Republican who helped establish the United Nations and championed an "unpartisan" foreign policy for this country.

Ther services are set for 2 p.m. in the new chapel of the Park Congregational Church that Vandenberg helped build.

In Washington, as well as Michigan, flags flew at half staff for the 67-year-old senator. He died Wednesday night after a long illness.

Vandenberg's casket was placed in a funeral home last night. Immediately long lines of mourners started filing past. The body will lie in state at the church tomorrow from 10 a.m. until the funeral hour.

The funeral service will be conducted by Dr. Edward Archibald Thompson, pastor of the Park church. Vandenberg gave the church $10,000—an award he won from a national magazine (Collier's) for his contribution to world peace—to build the new chapel.

Burial will be at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Marion Girl Scout Council To Mark 30th Anniversary

The 30th anniversary of the Marion Girl Scout Council will be celebrated Monday evening when the Girl Scout leaders and council members will be guests at a potluck supper to be held at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church Community House. Approximately 150 are expected to attend.

Among the special guests will be the first leaders of the Marion Girl Scout Troops in 1921: Miss Rachel McAfee, Miss Edith Brown, Miss Edith Keller, Miss Zelda Terry. They will speak on the beginning of Girl Scouting, and the types of programs the girls had at that time.

The dinner is under the direction of the program committee, with Mrs. L. L. Dickey as chairman and the public relations committee, with Miss Ruth Kleinmaier as chairman. A movie, "The Growing Years" will be shown by Dr. A. J. Wagner.

It is believed that about 30,000,000 American families cook on gas stoves.

Marion P.-T.A. Backs School Bond Issue

The Marion P.-T.A. Council met last week at Harding High School and voted to support the school bond issue. They also voted $200 to the campaign of the levy, to be used to print booklets illustrating the levy, and explaining it.

Announcements was made that the summer roundup would be held the week of May 7. and the May dinner would be May 10 at Wesley Methodist Church. Reservations must be made by May 7.

For the program a panel discussion was held on the school bond issue with Norman Fogt and Cecil Gabler composing the panel. Upon conclusion of the discussion, the North Side Mothers sang several selections.

The social hour was in charge of Darl Gatchell, Mrs. William Noel and Mrs. Raymond Seas.

AZALEA

An azalea from the florist usually isn't the northern winter-hardy kind So don t get too hopeful about planting yours in the garden and leaving it there But you can count on having it bloom again indoors every year if you re willing to care for it.

First off, it wants plenty of water. Also, a cool room for your azalea will suit it best

For summer, the pot can be sunk in a shady place outdoors Be sure that it s a conspicuous place and handy to water or you ll forget to attend to it

When fall arrives, bring your azalea inside to a cool shaded window and let it rest during its normal dormant period By November, it will be ready for more warmth, light, and feeding so as to get ready to bloom And when it does bloom, won't you be proud'

MacArthur's Example

GEN. MacARTHUR, a great American grown [illegible] in the service of his country, had his [illegible] Thursday when he shared his wisdom and perspective with his countrymen.

He [illegible] to great heights of dignity in what [illegible] been made another occasion for [illegible] differences of opinion. His countrymen [illegible] by his example.

[illegible] understand more clearly now the [illegible] of MacArthur's argument with the Truman Administration—that the United States [illegible] learn to see the world whole, not in compartments called Europe and Asia.

He wants America to comprehend that duty [illegible] on it by the overthrow of colonialism [illegible] Americans, themselves, once overthrew [illegible]. They now must help Asia's masses [illegible] while making certain that the im[illegible] and their borders is checked. [illegible] must keep Asia's masses from [illegible] the iron rule of new masters [illegible] of the Kremlin.

Gen. MacArthur's definition of his differences with the Truman Administration will be given [illegible] to the proper committees of Congress. But in outline they are along these lines:

He [illegible] the Truman Administration is [illegible] unduly by political pressure in the [illegible] of appeasement and compromise—the [illegible] reliance. He thinks appeasement would be fatal.

He believes that if the military power of the Chinese Communists can be broken, the Communist conspiracy will be powerless among the Chinese masses. He wants to break that power by blockading Chinese seaports, using air power beyond the Yalu River, and letting Chinese Nationalists invade China proper.

He believes, moreover, that this could be done without undue risk of bringing the Soviet Union [illegible] into the war in Asia. It is clear by the [illegible] of his remarks that Gen. MacArthur [illegible] the Kremlin alone holds the power of decision on starting a general war.

The general points out that there is only one [illegible] to settle any war once it has begun—to win [illegible] possible. Therefore, the United States must [illegible] the war in Korea.

Furthermore—and the omission is significant [illegible] MacArthur does not support the myth [illegible] it is the United Nations which must win [illegible] in Korea. He apparently distinguishes [illegible] allies of the United States, one of which [illegible] Japan and members of the United Nations. Some of these, as he well knows, are [illegible] practicing colonialism in Asia. One of them, the Soviet Union, is openly hostile to the United States.

Not even Gen. MacArthur, with first-hand knowledge of Asia and a lifetime of military experience, can claim to see the whole picture of international security. It should be noted that he did not try.

He knows there is no quick solution, no easy [illegible]. In his lifetime he has seen the failure of [illegible] quick, easy solutions. But he has seen [illegible] of integrity and good will. He has [illegible] the United States meet other challenges [illegible] confident it can meet this one.

He has met it in his own way. He has set a [illegible] example in the twilight of a distinguished [illegible]. He has helped men of good will to catch [illegible] of statesmanship in a time of pettiness [illegible]. He has lifted the hearts of Asiatics [illegible] the heads and hands of Americans.

[illegible] quieted some shrill voices and soothed [illegible] tempers with a calm appraisal of [illegible] demands of men of good will—[illegible] judgment in behalf of the Asiatics [illegible] broken the chains of colonialism.

Arthur H. Vandenberg

T[illegible] ran out for Arthur H. Vandenberg, [illegible] Senator from Michigan, on the eve of [illegible] down on Gen. MacArthur's views in Washington.

[illegible] nature of that event constituted a [illegible] the bipartisan foreign policy hopes [illegible] Senator Vandenberg had preserved as a [illegible]. It is as though one era were [illegible] another.

[illegible] to be positive about that. [illegible] from nationalism to inter[illegible] added stature to the senator [illegible] Michigan and made him the Republican [illegible] in the battling arc of "bipar[illegible] yet ran its course of reaction.

Time will test the soundness of Arthur Vandenberg's solution for the problem of preserving foreign policy from narrow partisanship. Time had been at work—the senator, himself, was well aware before his death that partisanship had not been kept at bay. The discipline he had practiced over his own tongue and mind had not been widely shared.

As his life ebbed away a bitter clash of partisan opinion over foreign policy blotted out [illegible] news of his passing while it threatened to blot out what was left of his creed [illegible] partisan foreign policy.

MacArthur Stops 'Smear'

By David Lawrence

Political Disclaimer Answers Critics

WASHINGTON

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S renunciation of any "political aspirations" and his pointed request that his name should not be used "in a political way" certainly was a timely demolition of attempts to befuddle the basic issue—whether American boys in Korea are going to be killed day after day without a real chance to fight back at the air forces bombarding them.

The introduction of the political innuendo against MacArthur was an Administration tactic. Smarting under the evident disapproval by the country of the crude method of relieving a distinguished general of his command, the Truman supporters in Congress have hit a new low in politics. They have already begun to smear the General as if that's the way to answer his fundamental arguments.

LAWRENCE

But the conversation often turned at the Capital Wednesday to the misuse of the office of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to make political speeches for the President and the Truman Administration.

General Bradley, as chairman, does not have a vote in the Joint Chiefs and it never was intended that he should be the spokesman of the Administration when it got into hot water in a political combat on Capitol Hill. General Bradley implied that General MacArthur wants to fight a war on the mainland of China and favors a deliberate expansion of the area of the war. This charge isn't so and causes disappointment among those who had come to look on General Bradley as above the political game.

What the Administration fails to see and when General Bradley failed in his speech to meet is the complaint of the mothers and fathers of the boys who are in Korea. These boys don't want to become victims of giant air raids from Manchurian bases without an effective chance to strike back at those bases.

* * *

IT IS SIGNIFICANT that Representative Vinson, Democrat, chairman of the House armed services committee, has switched from the firm position which he took in the case of the removal of Admiral Denfeld as chief of naval operations. The admiral testified before Mr. Vinson's committee and was punished as a reprisal for his testimony. General MacArthur was fired because he answered a question from a member of Congress. Mr. Vinson now says, however, in a letter to a constituent that the whole MacArthur situation "is just this simple." He pointed out that it had been decided by the President that the war in Korea should be "localized" and that General MacArthur has been advocating that we should win the war "by expanding it in Korea and the mainland of China." Mr. Vinson noted that the question was whether we were going to have a little war or a big one and that he wanted to be on the "side of a little war."

* * *

BUT THAT HAS NEVER been the issue and there isn't a bit of proof that it has ever been. The real issue is this: a decision by the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff that Korea was not to be defended was proclaimed officially in January 1950 by Secretary of State Acheson. Then in June 1950 the civilian authority — the President — decided to intervene in Korea, although no adequate military preparations had been made for it. It was a wise decision to make in June 1950 and a wrong decision in January 1950. It was wise in June 1950 because America has never been afraid to be bold when duty called. But if the United States had stationed Marines in the far Pacific in ample numbers and had not put the bulk of its aircraft carriers "in moth balls," there might have been no war at all in Korea.

* * *

TODAY, HOWEVER, the question is whether the forces in Korea shall be withdrawn as a consequence of a virtual surrender and appeasement or whether they shall fight to protect themselves against air attack. "Appeasement" is constantly denied but it is the Administration's real plan—if the Communists will only come far enough away from their haughty pose to help the Administration save face. As to big or little wars, Winston Churchill said in the House of Commons after the Munich appeasement:

"Gentlemen, you have chosen between war and dishonor. You have chosen dishonor. You shall have war."

The answer, as far as the next war is concerned, will come some day when appeasement or what is now euphemistically called a "political settlement" has been effected in Asia. General MacArthur stands as the symbol of opposition to that appeasement, because he honestly believes that a firm position will prevent World War III and that vacillation and phony "peace" talk will only invite World War III.

DEAR NEPHEW: The longer I puzzle my way through the question of whether or not privacy is invaded by television broadcasts of public proceedings, the more puzzled I become.

I guess it's because this is not a proposition that can be settled yes or no. It depends on how well the individual has earned the right to privacy. And, of course, a lot depends on how the invasion of privacy takes place.

My own right of privacy has never been challenged for the simple reason that I never have knowingly abused it. If I had, I might have been summoned to appear before some congressional investigators. Or I might have been hailed into court for some misdeed—and there would have gone my right of privacy. Or I might have surrendered the right because I had something special I wanted to say.

Since it already is established that public proceedings should be open to public view in this country, it's a quibble to balk at one kind of view and accept another one. If it's all right for a handful of people to crowd into a room to watch something interesting, then it's all right for a lot of people to watch it.

I feel the same way about letting people watch Congress in action. I don't get to Washington very often myself, but I can think of no reason why that should bar me from watching Congress, if someone can figure out a way to let me do it without going to Washington. It might even be a good idea if the denizens of that place could watch some of us in action; it might be educational.

Eventually, as many people will own television receivers as now own radio receivers. It is one more way to keep in touch with things, and it is reassuring for me to note that you newspaper people finally have realized that the more people know, the more they want to know. There is no saturation point in the business of furnishing information. Television will not supplant newspapers, magazines or books, though it will damage ordinary radio, being half radio itself.

Anyway it is going to be interesting to see how it all comes out, which is why I have been taking my sulphur and molasses without whimpering. I want to stick around a long time out of curiosity to collect a couple dozen mental bets I've made about the outcome of things now in the works.

Your Aunt has been cleaning house, so I have been having a bad time. But she is almost finished, which causes her to be in a good humor—and for that I am grateful. For a few days while she was scrubbing carpets I regreted my impulsive decision of a half century ago, more or less, to let her take care of me. She seemed to be more interested in the carpets.

I was a sensation at church on Easter Sunday. But I am not sure whether it was my new necktie or me. In either event, a number of people were wide-eyed with either surprise or admiration. Distribute my regards in your family where you think they will do the most good.

Evidence of a Confused People

By George E. Sokolsky

EVERY editor, columnist and radio commentator receives an enormous mail which establishes without doubt the existence of a terrifying confusion in the minds of our people. Only 20-odd years ago most Americans were certain of their beliefs and goals; they were certain that they knew what the American way of life meant. They had faith in their country and its national ideals.

SOKOLSKY

Then all of a sudden their world collapsed about them and they became a frightened and confused people. During the past 20 years every kind of idea, solution, panacea, leadership has been hammered into them by men and women, good and bad, selfish and unselfish, politicians and propagandists. Many European countries have taken advantage of our confusions to project their own ideas and purposes, only to add to our problems by the conflicts among them.

Karl Pearson, way back in 1892, in his "The Grammer of Science," wrote:

"It is little wonder that we have hitherto made small way towards a common estimate of what our time is really contributing to the history of human progress. The one man finds in our time a restlessness, a distrust of authority, a questioning of the basis of all social institutions and long-established methods — characteristics which mark for him a decadence of social unity, a collapse of the only principles which he conceives capable of guiding conduct. The other with a different temperament pictures for us a golden age in the near future, when the new knowledge shall be diffused through the people, and when the new view of human relations, which he finds everywhere taking root, shall finally have supplanted worn-out customs."

* * *

PROFESSOR Robert A. Millikan in 1931 could say this:

"In my judgment war is now in process of being abolished chiefly by this relentless advance of science, its most powerful enemy. It has existed in spite of religion, and in spite of philosophy, and in spite of social ethics, and in spite of humanitarianism and the Golden Rule, since the days of the cave-man because, in accordance with the evolutionary philosophy of modern science, and simply because, it has had survival value. It will disappear like the dinosaur when, and only when, the conditions which have given it its survival value have disappeared, and those conditions are disappearing now primarily because of the changes in world conditions being brought about by the growth of modern science."

Karl Pearson wrote before the Bolshevik revolution in Russia, which occurred in 1917; Robert A. Millikan after that event. Here are two really profound thinkers gazing at the impact of ideas upon the minds of men. Karl Pearson lived at a moment when Europe was moving toward the Twentieth century; Professor Millikan, after it had moved into its third decade and had passed through the morally devastating World War I.

* * *

OUR CONFUSIONS are a product of a retreat from morality. The last war was a competition in falsehood. It would seem that all sides lied and the lies were accepted as truth. Therefore, what is eternally and universally true had to be rejected. When the amenities and proprieties to which a people are accustomed disappear from their lives, the markers for right living are darkened.

I was thinking about that recently in connection with the use of the phrase which the President employed to describe Drew Pearson and which Senator McCarthy is reported to have employed to describe the President. None of this is pleasant; but worse than that, it gives high official sanction to vulgarities. There was a time when Mothers washed out their son's mouths with brown soap for such language—and it was a much more decent world then.

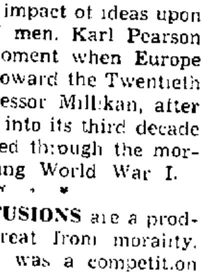
My point is that our confusions increase not because of politics and wars but because unless a people live within the margins of their own traditions, they do not know how to live at all. Anything goes only with those who have nowhere to go. Hit and miss private living produces hit and miss public life. Those funny shirts President Truman likes to wear in Florida look all right on everybody except Harry Truman. They give him a posture that cheapens the office which he holds, just as his language often produces disrespect not only for him but for the government which he heads.

This discussion may not solve any problems, but it is designed to stir a discussion on fundamentals.

Politics and Generals

By Raymond Moley

RADIO AND television performances of Democratic senators, Senate floor defenses of President Truman, and the speeches of the President himself all reveal the shock which their party has received in the MacArthur episode. They realize, apparently, at least the Senators realize, that they are underdogs in this controversy and that their defeat in the court of public opinion, while not mortal, is very serious.



MOLEY

While many a political moon will shine before next election, and throw its light upon quite different circumstances, Democrats are improvising their defense now. And that defense is not very logical.

On the one hand, they loudly proclaim their devotion to the supremacy of the civil over the military authority. On the other hand, they quietly begin to talk about Truman's retirement and the nomination of General Eisenhower as a Democratic candidate. Regardless of their devotion to civil authority, their prayer is for any general in a storm. Especially when another general promises to be their strongest oratorical critic.

BUT THERE ARE perils that lie before the jubilant Republicans. In this controversy, General MacArthur must manage his cause with consummate skill. No one in years has so commanded the attention of the country. Be-

In 1855 there was frost every month in the year. August 18, 1855, it injured the corn and killed the buckwheat. On June 4, 1859, a frost occurred which considerably damaged the crops, though utterly destroying none except the tender garden vegetables and fruits. The wettest seasons were reported to have been in 1844, 1855 and 1883. Several other seasons, it had been too wet in May and June to permit the crops to have a good start.

Congress Quiz

Q—Is the President prohibited from sending troops to Europe by the Senate's April 4 votes?

A—No, the Senate approved resolutions on the troops issue which merely expressed an opinion and did not have force of law. Both resolutions endorsed shipment of four divisions to Europe. If the President wished to send more, he would be faced with a request, but not a legal directive, to consult Congress.

We hear Harry Truman may write a book. Title "All About HEAVEN." . . . India has stripped the Maharajah of Baroda of titles, a half-a-million-a-year pension and other income. (Poor guy can't tell where his next racing stable is coming from.) . . . Lilli Palmer is wonderful on her new video program, giving a grand and glorious relief from the many shallow wrens who depend on the low neckline . . . "Father's Little Dividend" is a mighty funny movie. . . . "Juliet Overhead Forces Closing"—headline. It was the overhead situation that made it tough for Romeo, too.

IN A NUPTIAL MASS in St. Mary Catholic Church Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, the marriage of Miss Mary Rita Murphy and Dr. James Ambrose McGlew was solemnized. Very Rev William J. Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St. Mary Church, officiated.

Music preceding and during the ceremony included the Holy Rosary Mass by Carnevali and numbers by the St. Mary all-girl choir. Miss Rosaline Manzo was organist.

Bouquets of white snapdragons and American Beauty roses were held in the four gold vases on the main altar and arrangements of the same flowers were in the gold vases on the side altars. Palms and large baskets of white snapdragons and American Beauty roses were at either side along the outside communion rail. To mark the pews white ribbon bows were combined with white snapdragons and white gladioli. The guests, as they were seated by the ushers, received a white missal on which were the bride and bridegroom's names.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Dr. Frank V. Murphy, wore a gown of lustrous white slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice of hand drawn imported Alencon lace. The sheer yoke was lace appliqued, and long tight sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The very full skirt of satin and Alencon lace was worn over an old fashioned hoop and it extended into a long court train. Her chapel length veil of sheer imported French illusion was edged in Alencon lace and draped softly from a demi-bonnet of lace, trimmed with scallops of the same lace.

MRS. JAMES A. McGLEW

A handkerchief belonging to her late mother and a white satin covered prayer book belonging to the present Mrs. Frank V. Murphy, along with a pair of pearl rosary beads, a gift from the bridegroom, were carried by the bride. Her round bouquet was of two white orchids surrounded with lilies of the valley and tied with white satin ribbon. Streamers showering from the bouquet were tied with clusters of lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Frank V. Murphy Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, and bridesmaids were Miss Marian LaMarche and Miss Natalie LaMarche. Their white strapless gowns had bodices of lace and very full skirts of tulle worn over old fashioned hoops. With the gowns, they wore detachable lace capes. Their bonnets, styled like that of the bride, were made of tiny rows of white hair braid with ruching trim. Caught to the full skirts of their dresses were garlands of clusters of white sweet peas tied with American Beauty ribbon in large bows. The matron of honor carried a round bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis, and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of stephanotis and white eucharis lilies tied with American Beauty ribbon.

Michael T. McGlew of Toledo, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests were Dr. Daniel M. Murphy and Dr. Frank V. Murphy Jr., both of Marion and Robert F. Murphy and George Edward Murphy of Cleveland, all brothers of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, a breakfast for 100 guests and a reception were held in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. The bride's table, which held a tiered wedding cake surrounded by salal and white gladioli, was centered with American Beauty roses and calla lilies around lighted white candles. Similar bouquets were at either end of the table. Bouquets of flowers were on the guests' tables. At one end of the room, where a string ensemble played, there were potted palms and baskets of American Beauty roses and white snapdragons.

For the occasion, Mrs. Frank V. Murphy wore a French blue silk crepe costume suit and a hat fashioned of lilac and blue velvet flowers trimmed with rhinestones. Her accessories were navy blue and she wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. McGlew wore a navy blue dress accented with white with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

For traveling, on a wedding trip to Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., Mrs. McGlew donned a manila brown gabardine suit with a beige silk shantung blouse. Worn at the neckline of the blouse was a sunburst rhinestone pin on a tangerine colored velvet ribbon. Her milan straw hat was accented with a long feather and ribbon of manila brown and tangerine. Lizzard accessories completed her costume. She also wore the white orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, the couple will make their home at 106½ McWilliams court.

Mrs. McGlew is a graduate of St. Mary High School and St. Mary College. Notre Dame, Ind. Dr. McGlew, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McGlew of Youngstown, is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame in Notre Dame, Ind., and the St Louis University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo. He is a member of the Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity. Dr. McGlew served as a medical officer in World War II and recently completed a residency in internal medicine at Veterans Hospital Jefferson Barracks, Mo. At present, he is practicing medicine here.

When the rehearsal dinner party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank V. Murphy of 333 North Prospect street, the bride presented pastel and gold necklaces and matching earrings to her attendants, and the bridegroom gave his best man and ushers saddle leather billfolds.

Guests from out of the city included the bridegroom's parents. Miss Helen Dunlap of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McGlew of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bintz of Zanesville Mrs. Joseph E. Grundy and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harrison of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. James Grissinger of Worthington, Miss Nelle Hanley of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Ryan of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Renwick and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fedderer of Columbus, Mrs. F. Today's Women

Modern Secretaries Weak In "Three Rs"

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

HALF OF TODAY'S secretaries can't spell.

These young women, all of whom are high school graduates, many of whom hold college degrees, lack basic training in "readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic" say executives whose business is the hiring and training of secretarial help.

One great corporation with headquarters in New York, which employs thousands of stenographers and secretaries, maintains a training course for secretarial personnel. The man in charge of this course says:

"When girls in the organization apply for training we first test their typing skill, requiring that they be able to type 40 words a minute with not more than five errors in 400 words. If they qualify on this score, they are then given a seventh grade spelling test of 100 words in every day usage. We require a grade of 85 percent on this test. Not more than 50 percent of the girls make the grade."

Girls who are accepted for the training class also must pass a written test in grammar and punctuation, after which they theoretically are trained in the specific phraseology of this business. But, says the executive in charge:

"A great deal of the time is spent drilling the girls in seventh-grade spelling and eighth-grade grammar."

* * *

ROSE BROPHY who has found jobs for some 25,000 secretaries in her 20 years as employment specialist in New York, bears out these findings. Says she:

"I'm constantly amazed at how many college graduates can't spell."

Miss Brophy and her late sister-in-law, Loire Brophy, won success and a measure of fame in a man's world by establishing a reputation of being able to supply efficient secretarial help to big business men. Loire Brophy's book, "If Women Must Work," is a best seller with girls who seek careers in business.

Rose Brophy carrying on the business since her sister-in-law's death, has a few pointers for young women who seek business success through the secretarial door:

"The first requirements are basic—to be a good secretary a girl must have a sound knowledge of the Three R's, be able to write and spell a grammatical sentence, and must develop skill at typing and shorthand.

"The other requirements are less cut-and-dried. In order to get a job, a girl must make a good first impression — appearance and personality are of primary importance here. But if she hasn't the education or skill necessary, she won't keep the job long."

* * *

THE BROPHY SISTERS, in their years of placement work developed some useful advice for girls seeking jobs:

1—A prospective employer makes up his mind in the first five minutes of an interview, so put your best foot forward—fast.

2—Good grooming is of primary importance in getting—and holding—a job. Clothes need not be expensive or extreme in style, but they should be neat, well-brushed and immaculate. Don't try to look like a movie star when you go to apply for a job. Keep makeup conservative, clothes simple, and strive for an appearance of business-like charm.

3—Don't expect a top secretarial job right off the bat. A girl would do well to take a job as typist at first and go to a business school at night to brush up on shorthand and grammar in order to land the job she wants.

4—At least two or three years of secretarial experience is necessary before a girl may expect a top job of the executive secretary type. But this is worth waiting for. The sky's the limit for a young woman who is able to take some of the load off a busy executive's shoulders.

Secret's Out

By Inez Robb

SAN FRANCISCO

AS IT TURNED out, the secret of the atom bomb was a secret in name only.

What the government should have done was to turn the A-secrets over to Gypson Stalker, assistant city editor of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin, and myself, since Gip and I were a fast ten months old—each—we have been sitting on a secret that at one time we feared might wreck our lives.

But at this point, neither one of us is as young as we used to be. And if word now leaks out that we once won the beautiful baby contest at the Canyon County fair in Caldwell, Idaho, it seems hardly likely to blight our existences.

Inez Robb

Also, this true confession may interest those nosy statisticians who are always going around asking what becomes of beauty contests winners. Hollywood never showed the slightest interest in us, and eventually we took to newspaper work in desperation.

* * *

GIP AND I had a brief reunion in the city room of the Call-Bulletin during Gen. MacArthur's visit here. And we jointly agreed once more that no two beauty contest winners ever faded so fast.

By the time we were two years old, about all honest neighbors could say of either of us was that we looked healthy. That seems to be the general feeling today, although Gip and I feel we have reason to be proud that we have both, over the years, kept our hair and our waistlines.

Gip at this point strongly resembles Osgood Perkins in the role of Walter Burns, city editor of the Hecht, MacArthur opus "Front Page." That ain't bad, but it still ain't Carey Grant or Ezio Pinza.

And about the best that can be said for me is that I strongly resemble Zazu Pitts after a hard day over a hot stove. At least, I don't look like Tugboat Annie. I have never been forced to wear a veil in the streets, but neither did papa ever have to sweep the talent scouts off the front stoop.

* * *

HOW SUCH UNLIKELY entrants as Gip and I ever won the blue ribbons at the county fair is a short and simple annal. Idaho was an even more sparsely settled state 100 years ago than now. Competition, in a word, was not keen.

Gipson was the only boy baby entered. I at least beat out the other lone contestant in the girls' division. And let this be a lesson to proud parents entering babies in future beauty contests.

When time came to judge the infant beauties, my prettiest aunt, Nellie Virginia—the belle of the Boise valley—was told to hold me.

It is a family legend to this day that the gentlemen who were judging the baby contest took one look at my Aunt Nell and declared me, a skinny, bald-headed infant, winner by acclamation. It is also a fact that the flustered judge, assigned to pin the blue ribbons on Gipson and myself, affixed the ribbon on my aunt and kissed her in his confusion.

Or just how confused can you get? Or was the guy really confused?

BY THE TIME Gip and I eventually maltriculated at the University of Idaho, our early misdemeanor had been forgotten by the community and we had cautioned our respective parents not to leave us open to youthful ridicule and scorn by telling of our early triumphs.

All went well until Gip's proud mother came to the university to visit him one early June day. I guess some other student's mother boasted just once too often about her offspring. Anyway, Mrs. Stalker was tempted beyond her strength, and she told of Gip's—and my—infant victories.

Our respective lives crashed in ruins around us. Gip and I faced the wisecracks bravely. But it was too much for us. And that is the true reason why I finished my college career at the University of Missouri, far from Idaho and my shameful past, and why Gip ran off to San Francisco to be a newspaperman, the fate worse than death.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CAN you think of any 720 persons—some of whom have to be women—whom you could mobilize in Michigan for successful seizure of almost half of Henry Ford's huge, and militarily vital, River Rouge plant? Sound fantastic? Yet that's just what the Communists apparently have succeeded in doing in the past few months.

No direct assault, of course. They simply moved into Detroit their top national "agitation-propagandists" (agit-props) and most brilliant organizers from their "Trade Union Commission" in New York. And today the Communists exert great influence over, or control directly, the men who speak for almost 30,000 CIO Ford workers in seven of the sprawling buildings at that famed gargantuan plant, now the hub of an industrial machine with over one billion dollars in war orders.

Victor Riesel

And there are exactly 720 Communist Party members in Michigan today, according to an undercover FBI count. So, the next time you hear the professional intellectuals chide you, as though you were a pre-Ice Age fossilized skull, for worrying about what exactly 43,217 U.S. Communist party members can do—remember Ford River Rouge.

I'd like to tell you what these few disciplined thousand are in a position to do right through our industrial-war production life line, right this minute.

Our security police at this moment are closely watching one man who is in a position to choke off production in giant steel mills, huge blast furnaces and tin plate plants. Again, it may sound fantastic. But, he is a friend of those who believe the recent Communist Peace Crusade is a great boon to humanity. And he can call a strike which would choke off supplies going into, and millions of tons rolling out of, the world's greatest industrial system. Yup—just like that. It might not last long. But, however long it lasted, it would hurt bad.

* * *

OUR SECURITY police know of Communist cells, just a handful of people, gentlemen, who can start, right now, a bitter race riot in one of the giant steel mills not too far out of Chicago.

Our security police are watching the waterfront. For they know of just four or five cells which are poised for disruptive refusal to load our shooting stuff aboard deep sea vessels on two coasts—and refusal to unload it in Alaska and Hawaii. If this doesn't happen, it won't be because we were able to stop it in advance. It will be called off only because the Communist' World labor organization did not yet want such direct action here.

And when it wants it, it can get such "Operation Disruption" rolling in 41 Western U. S. ports, 15 Alaskan ports, several big Hawaii ports and in two great Eastern harbors.

All this, of course, in addition to what the party can do in and around our atomic energy motor building plants, jet factories, etc., all in the electronic field—not the least vulnerable of which are the Pittsburgh Westinghouse plants and the northeastern General Electric installations.

* * *

YET. THE COMMUNIST Party has but 4,550 members in California; 580 in Connecticut; 1751 in New Jersey; 22,575 in New York; 1.060 in Ohio; 2.322 in Pennsylvania; and 210 in Washington, D. C. There are just a handful in Maryland, but they're powerful in Baltimore, as the nation may soon discover. They concentrated there because it's one of the country's most vital ports.

How do they do it? Well, here's how they did it at Ford River Rouge where they even elected "with overwhelming majorities," the five pro-Commies on trial before the union on charges of "subservience to the Communist Party." Here's how they did it despite the fight by Walter Reuther, himself a brilliant strategist.

First, they rehashed for themselves, in specially assigned little Communist Party Commissions, all grievances found among the plant's 60,000 workers. Then they set their best propaganda writers in New York and Detroit working on a constant flow of leaflets and speeches.

ACCORDING TO THEIR own special report from the plant itself:

"The central feature of the 'Progressive' campaign (at Ford) was a "Straight From the Shoulder" peace offensive. Tabloids, leaflets and mass meetings explained to the workers that war is not inevitable. Progressives warned that conversion to war production would not bring peace and prosperity. . . .

To this were added demands for "pie in the sky." Huge wage increases, lowering of production standards and speeds, special upgrading for Negroes, heavy taxes on industry and lowering of excises on workers, removal of all wartime restrictions which cause layoffs in civilian production, and even control of company rights to produce machines in its other plants.

There were hundreds of other demands, all tailor-made to fit all grievances. And that's exactly what to look for in all industries. Then watch, for strike sentiment to be whipped up when the companies don't dish out this "pie in the sky" on red hot platters

This is the second column by Victor Riesel detailing for impeding defense production in this country. This deliberate disruption is part of the overall Soviet strategy aimed at weakening American opposition to Red military aggression. Today, Mr. Riesel nails down their secret tactics inside labor.
